Making: Anthropology, Archaeology, Art and Architecture Tim Ingold, 2013 Making creates knowledge builds environments and transforms lives Anthropology archaeology art and architecture are all ways of making and all are dedicated to exploring the conditions and potentials of human life In this exciting book Tim Ingold ties the four disciplines together in a way that has never been attempted before In a radical departure from conventional studies that treat art and architecture as compendia of objects for analysis Ingold proposes an anthropology and archaeology not of but with art and architecture He advocates a way of thinking through making in which sentient practitioners and active materials continually answer to or correspond with one another in the generation of form Making offers a series of profound reflections on what it means to create things on materials and form the meaning of design landscape perception animate life personal knowledge and the work of the hand It draws on examples and experiments ranging from prehistoric stone tool making to the building of medieval cathedrals from round mounds to monuments from flying kites to winding string from drawing to writing The book will appeal to students and practitioners alike with interests in social and cultural anthropology archaeology architecture art and design visual studies and material culture The Interiors Theory Primer William Mangold, 2025-07-31 In a world where life is increasingly defined by the spaces we inhabit understanding interiors is essential to understanding ourselves The Interiors Theory Primer maps the intellectual terrain of interior design and spatial experience introducing readers to key concepts that shape how people occupy interior spaces Organized into three parts this book begins with foundational concerns such as place identity materiality and atmosphere and then examines the boundaries and expertise of the discipline before turning to critical and emerging topics like biophilia virtuality and social justice Each chapter presents a focused literature review of a major theme in interiors theory supported by key design precedents and suggestions for further reading Drawing on a wide range of scholarship The Interiors Theory Primer offers a coherent framework for understanding interiors as a distinct interdisciplinary field deeply embedded in the human condition Accessible to students useful to professionals and provocative for scholars The Interiors Theory Primer argues that the designed environments in which we live work and gather deserve greater attention not only for their aesthetic and functional qualities but also for their powerful role in shaping contemporary life Surfaces Mike Anusas, Cristián Simonetti, 2020-02-24 In attending to surfaces as they wrap layer and grow within sentient bodies material formations and cosmological states this volume presents a series of ten anthropological studies stretching across five continents and in observation of earthly practices of making knowing living and dying Through theoretically reflecting on time spent with Aymara and Mapuche Andean cultures the Malagasy people of Madagascar craftspeople and designers across Europe and Oceania amongst the architectures of Australia and South Korea and within the folds of books screens landscape and the sea the anthropologists in this volume communicate diverse ways of considering working with and knowing surfaces Together these writings advance a knowledge of the world which resists any definitive settlement of existential categories and rather seeks to know the world in its emergence and transformation as entities grow cohere shift dissolve decay and are reborn through the contact and exchange of surfaces persisting with varying time power and effect The book principally invites readers from anthropology the creative arts and environmental studies but also across the wider humanities and social sciences as well as those in neighbouring scientific fields of archaeology biology geography geoscience

Detailing Worlds Eric Bellin, 2025-02-06 In the 21st century the word detail appears constantly in discussions of building and we use it in many different ways yet just over 250 years ago detail meant nothing at all particular to the work of architects engineers or builders Detailing Worlds is the first book to examine the origins and evolution of detail as a concept with meanings specific to practices of building By exploring how past meanings and roles were ascribed to detail in different worlds of practice those of academics technicians students engineers and architects Detailing Worlds looks to the future illuminating the ways disciplinary knowledge and the concepts on which it is based evolve and change over time It is a story about how such concepts are slowly but constantly reconceived redefined and transformed by individuals as they interact with one another and how this process is shaped by the ever changing sociocultural and technological dimensions of the world around us Richly illustrated with more than 200 images including figures from rare texts archival student drawings and practitioners construction documents from the 18th through 20th centuries Detailing Worlds ventures to tell the history of a disciplinary specific idea and offer insights about how we think and speak about the practice of building today

Artistic Practices and Archaeological Research Dragoş Gheorghiu, Theodor Barth, 2019-02-28 This volume which has come about through a collaborative venture between Dragoş Gheorghiu archaeologist and professional visual artist and Theodor Barth anthropologist aims at expanding the field of archaeological research with an anthropological understanding of practices that include artistic methods

Unpacking IKEA Pauline Garvey, 2017-11-23 This book represents the first anthropological ethnography of Ikea consumption and goes to the heart of understanding the unique and at times frantic popularity of this one iconic transnational store Based on a year of participant observation in Stockholm s Kungens Kurva store the largest in the world this book places the retailer squarely within the realm of the home building efforts of individuals in Stockholm and to a lesser degree in Dublin Ikea the world s largest retailer and one of its most interesting is the focus of intense popular fascination internationally yet is rarely subject to in depth anthropological inquiry In Unpacking Ikea Garvey explores why Ikea is never just a store for its customers and questions why it is described in terms of a cultural package as everyday and classless Using in depth interviews with householders over several years this ethnographic study follows the furniture from the Ikea store outwards to probe what people actually take home with them Visions of Culture

Jerry D. Moore, 2018-11-09 Visions of Culture An Introduction to Anthropological Theories and Theorists Fifth Edition has been updated and expanded and provides a succinct clear and balanced introduction to theoretical developments in the field The key ideas of thirty major theorists are briefly described and unique to this textbook linked to the biographical and fieldwork experiences that helped shape their theories The impact of each scholar on contemporary anthropology is presented along with numerous examples quotations from the theorists writings and a description of the broader intellectual setting in which these anthropologists worked In addition to six new chapters Moore has updated all the profiles to incorporate recent scholarship The book is linked to the companion work Visions of Culture A Reader Second Edition to encourage the fullest intellectual engagement for students NEW TO THIS EDITION Part VII Neo Darwinian Evolutionary Theories 25 Eric Alden Smith Human Behavioral Ecology 26 John Tooby and Leda Cosmides The Evolved Mind 27 Robert Boyd and Peter Richerson Culture and Evolution Dual Inheritance Theory Part VIII The Ontological Turn 28 Tim Ingold An Intersubjective World 29 Philippe Descola Nature and Culture 30 Bruno Latour The Creation of Knowledge

Archaeological Theory in Dialogue Rachel J. Crellin, Craig N. Cipolla, Lindsay M. Montgomery, Oliver J.T. Harris, Sophie V. Moore, 2020-11-09 Archaeological Theory in Dialogue presents an innovative conversation between five scholars from different backgrounds on a range of central issues facing archaeology today Interspersing detailed investigations of critical theoretical issues with dialogues between the authors the book interrogates the importance of four themes at the heart of much contemporary theoretical debate relations ontology posthumanism and Indigenous paradigms The authors who work in Europe and North America explore how these themes are shaping the ways that archaeologists conduct fieldwork conceptualize the past and engage with the political and ethical challenges that our discipline faces in the twenty first century The unique style of Archaeological Theory in Dialogue switching between detailed arguments and dialogical exchange makes it essential reading for both scholars and students of archaeological theory and those with an interest in the politics and ethics of the past

Experiential Walks for Urban Design Barbara E. A. Piga, Daniel Siret, Jean-Paul Thibaud, 2021-08-05 The edited volume explores the topic of experiential walks which is the practice of multi or mono sensory and in motion immersion into an urban or natural environment The act of walking is hence intended as a process of re discovering reflecting and learning through an embodied experience Specific attention is devoted to the investigation of the ambiance of places and its dynamic atmospheric perception that contribute to generating the social experience This topic is gaining increasing attention and has been studied in several forms in different disciplines to investigate the particular spatial social sensory and atmospheric character of places The book contains chapters by experts in the field and covers both the theory and the practice of innovative methods techniques and technologies It examines experiential walks in the perspective of an interdisciplinary approach to environmental and sensory urban design by organising the contributions according to three specific interrelated focuses namely the exploration and investigation of the multisensory dimension of public spaces the different ways to grasp and communicate the in motion experience through traditional and novel forms of representation and the application of the approach to urban participatory planning and higher education Shedding new light on the topic the book offers both a reference guide for those engaged in applied research and a toolkit for professionals and students

Knowing from the Inside Tim Ingold, 2022-02-24 Knowledge comes from thinking with from and through things not just about them We get to know the world around us from the inside of our being in it Drawing on the fields of anthropology art architecture and education this book addresses what knowing from the inside means for practices of teaching and learning If knowledge is not transmitted ready made independently of its application in the world but grows from the crucible of our engagements with people places and materials then how can there be such a thing as a curriculum What forms could it take And what could it mean to place such disciplines as anthropology art and architecture at the heart of the curriculum rather than as at present on the margins In addressing these questions the fifteen distinguished contributors to this volume challenge mainstream thinking about education and the curriculum and suggest experimental ways to overcome the stultifying effects of current pedagogic practice

The Contested Territory of Architectural Theory Elie G. Haddad, 2022-10-21

This book brings together a diverse group of theoreticians to explore architectural theory as a discipline assessing its condition and relevance to contemporary practice Offering critical assessment in the face of major social and environmental issues of today 17 original contributions address the relevance of architectural theory in the contemporary world from various perspectives including but not limited to politics gender representation race environmental crisis and history The chapters are grouped into two distinct sections the first section explores various historical perspectives on architectural theory mapping theory's historiographical turn and its emergence and decline from the 1960s to the present the second offers alternative visions and new directions for architectural theory incorporating feminist and human rights perspectives and addressing contemporary issues such as Artificial Intelligence and the Age of Acceleration This edited collection features contributions from renowned scholars as well as emergent voices with a Foreword by David Leatherbarrow This book will be of great interest to graduate and upper level students of architecture as well as academics and practicing architects

Ambiance, Tourism and the City Iñigo Sánchez-Fuarros, Daniel Paiva, Daniel Malet Calvo, 2023-04-28

Ambiance Tourism and the City considers how tourism and urban development affect the lived ambiances of contemporary cities around the world As most of the existing literature on sensory atmospheres says little about the intersection between tourism and atmospheric production this book affirms the centrality of the notion of ambiance as a mode of inquiry into the making and remaking of urban places for tourist consumption The book takes the reader into the sensory worlds of a traditional Italian marketplace a jungle park in Kuala Lumpur a slum in the Colombian city of Medellín or the sun and sand tourism destinations in Southern Spain among other case studies It offers new insights into the impact of tourism on the urban environment from multidisciplinary perspectives and a wide range of geographical regions across Europe North America Asia and South America Through these contemporary case studies the book further deepens our understanding of the ways in which ambiances and atmospheres pervade the physical regeneration and sensory transformation of contemporary tourist destinations Conversely this book offers insights on the effects of tourism on everyday urban experience By bringing together a diverse group of scholars and case studies to present a global perspective on the atmospheric production of the tourist city this book is to serve as a valuable reference tool for researchers and undergraduate and postgraduate students with an interest in urban ambiances tourism cultural geography and urban planning Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Materialising the Future Venere Ferraro, Pirjo Kääriäinen, Paz Morer-Camo, Anke Pasold, 2023-05-20 This open access book offers a host of theoretical knowledge at the basis of new EM Ts namely Interactive Connected Smart Materials Wearables ICS Nanomaterials Advanced Growing Materials and Experimental Wood Based Materials as communicated through the unique design teaching method developed within the context of the European Project DATEMATS a result of the creative workshops held by the four higher education institutions that were partners in the project stressing the pros and cons of the method and offering ideas for further development and improvement The modern age requires its own innovations in regards to both social and industrial progress innovations made possible by Emerging Materials and Technologies EM Ts Frameworks for designing both with and for the new materials are presented educating designers about the opportunities offered by EM Ts and how to take advantage of them At the same time the book explains how the method developed through the knowledge generated at research centers and universities can be communicated to companies across various industries that stand to gain from it linking the assorted stakeholders and includes a final chapter based on feedback from both students and business professionals as to the benefits of academic industrial cooperation This is an open access book Princes of the Church David Rollason, 2017-06-14 The aim of the volume is to bring together the latest research on the importance of bishops palaces for social and political history landscape history architectural history and archaeology It is structured in three sections design and function landscape and urban context and architectural form and includes contributions from the late Antique period through to the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries considering bishops residences in England Scotland Wales the Byzantine Empire France and Italy When Brains Meet Buildings Michael A. Arbib, 2021-08-17 After decades of research on minds and brains and a decade of conversations with architects Michael Arbib presents When Brains Meet Buildings as an invitation to the science behind architecture richly illustrated with buildings both famous and domestic As he converses with the reader he presents action oriented perception memory and imagination as well as atmosphere aesthetics and emotion as keys to analyzing the experience and design of architecture He also explores what it might mean for buildings to have brains and illuminates all this with an appreciation of the biological and cultural evolution that supports the diverse modes of human living that we know today These conversations will not only raise the level of interaction between architecture and neuroscience but by explaining the world of each group to the other will also engage all readers who share a fascination with both the brains within them and the buildings around them Michael Arbib is a pioneer in the interdisciplinary study of computers and brains and has long studied brain mechanisms underlying the visual control of action His expertise makes him a unique authority on the intersection of architecture and neuroscience Circular Economy
