Making Sense Art Practice And Transformative Therapeutics:

Making Sense Lorna Collins, 2014      Making Sense Lorna Collins, 2014-09-25 Making Sense utilises art practice as a proactive way of thinking that helps us to make sense of the world. It does this by developing an applied understanding of how we can use art as a method of healing and as a critical method of research. Drawing from poststructuralist philosophy, psychoanalysis, arts therapies and the creative processes of a range of contemporary artists, the book appeals to the fields of art theory, the arts therapies, aesthetics and art practice whilst it opens the regenerative affects of art making to everyone. It does this by proposing the agency of transformative therapeutics which defines how art helps us to make sense of the world by activating, nourishing and understanding a particular world view or situation therein. The purpose of the book is to question and understand how and why art has this facility and power and make the creative and healing properties of certain modes of expression widely accessible, practical and useful.      Mad Studies Reader Bradley Lewis, Alisha Ali, Jazmine Russell, 2024-09-30 The last few years have brought increased writings from activists, artists, scholars and concerned clinicians that cast a critical and constructive eye on psychiatry, mental health care and the cultural relations of mental difference. With particular focus on accounts of lived experience and readings that cover issues of epistemic and social injustice in mental health discourse, the Mad Studies Reader brings together voices that advance anti-sanist approaches to scholarship, practice, art and activism in this realm. Beyond offering a theoretical and historical overview of mad studies, this Reader draws on the perspectives, voices and experiences of artists, mad pride activists, humanities and social science scholars and critical clinicians to explore the complexity of mental life and mental difference. Voices from these groups confront and challenge standard approaches to mental difference. They advance new structures of meaning and practice that are inclusive of those who have been systematically subjugated and promote anti-sanist approaches to counter inequalities, prejudices and discrimination. Confronting modes of psychological oppression and the power of a few to interpret and define difference for so many, the Mad Studies Reader asks the critical question of how these approaches may be reconsidered, resisted and reclaimed. This collection will be of interest to mental health clinicians, students and scholars of the arts, humanities and social sciences and anyone who has been affected by mental difference directly or indirectly who is curious to explore new perspectives.      Deleuze and the Schizoanalysis of Visual Art Ian Buchanan, Lorna Collins, 2014-09-25 The concept of schizoanalysis is Deleuze and Guattari's fusion of psychoanalytic inspired theories of the self, the libido and desire with Marx inspired theories of the economy, history and society. Schizoanalysis holds that art's function is both political and aesthetic; it changes perception. If one cannot change perception then one cannot change anything politically. This is why Deleuze and Guattari always insist that artists operate at the level of the real, not the imaginary or the symbolic. Ultimately, they argue there is no necessary distinction to be made between aesthetics and politics. They are simply two sides of the same coin, both concerned with the formation and transformation of social and cultural norms. Deleuze and the Schizoanalysis of Visual Art explores how every artist good or bad contributes to the structure and nature of society because their work either reinforces social norms or challenges them From this point of view we are all artists we all have the potential to exercise what might be called a aesthetico political function and change the world around us or conversely we can not only let the status quo endure but fight to preserve it as though it were freedom itself Edited by one of the world s leading scholars in Deleuze Studies and an accomplished artist curator and critic this impressive collection of writings by both academics and practicing artists is an exciting imaginative tool for a upper level students and academics researching and studying visual arts critical theory continental philosophy and media

Arts Therapies and Sexual Offending Marian Liebmann, Simon Hastilow, 2021-01-21 A resource for arts therapists and other clinicians on working with people who have committed sexual offences There is a strong focus on the value of establishing a therapeutic relationship involving non verbal media as a cornerstone drawing upon current research and practice Emphasis is placed on working with transference and counter transference being trauma informed and making use of effective supervision This group of offenders can benefit hugely from the provision of arts therapies and this book provides valuable experiences of working with people who have committed sexual offences

Nancy and Visual Culture Carrie Giunta, 2016-03-18 In an exciting range of original responses to Nancy s work these 12 essays reanimate the dialogue between interdisciplinary scholars and practicing artists that originally gave birth to visual culture as a field of study A new translation of Nancy s essay The Image Mimesis and Methexis reveals how Nancy s work informs challenges and inspires our encounters with visual culture
