Making It Personal English Edition:

Making it Personal Tanya Kant, 2020 Targeted advertisements tailored information feeds and recommended content are now common and somewhat inescapable components of our everyday lives With the help of searches browsing history purchases likes and other digital interactions technological experiences are now routinely personalized Companies with access to this information often downplay the fact that users personal data serves as a key form of monetization and their privacy policies tend to use the terms personalization and customization to legitimize the practice of tracking and algorithmically anticipating users daily movements In Making it Personal Tanya Kant sheds light on the dilemmas of algorithmic personalization exploring such key contemporary questions as What do users really know about the algorithms that guide their online experiences and social media presence And if personalization practices seek to act on our behalf then how can users constitute retain or relinquish their autonomy and sense of self At the heart of the book are new interviews and focus groups with web users who through a myriad of resistant tactical resigned or trusting engagements encounter algorithmic personalization as part of their lived experience on the web Tanya Kant proposes that for those who encounter it algorithmic personalization creates epistemic uncertainties that can emerge as trust or anxiety produces an ongoing struggle for autonomy between user and system and even has the power to intervene in identity constitution In doing so algorithmic personalization does not just generate filter bubbles for individuals worldviews but also creates new implications for knowledge production the deployment of cultural capital as an algorithmic tactic and above all formations of identity itself

Making it personal van Berkel, Rik, Valkenburg, Ben, 2007-02-28 Public social services are increasingly being individualised in order to better meet the differentiated needs of competent and independent citizens and to promote the effectiveness of social interventions This book addresses this development focusing on a new type of social services that has become crucial in the modernisation of welfare states activation services The book discusses and analyses the individualisation of activation services against the background of social policy reforms on the one hand and the introduction of new forms of public governance on the other Critically discussing the rise of individualised social services in the light of various theoretical points of view it analyses the way in which activation and the active subject are presented in EU discourse It compares the introduction of individualised activation services in five EU welfare states the UK Germany Italy Finland and the Czech Republic focusing on official policies as well as policy practices The book provides original insights into the phenomenon of the individualised provision of activation services It is useful reading for policy makers as well as for students and researchers of welfare states social policies and public governance

Make it Personal Dr. Cara Lenore Antoine, 2023-10-10 In the world of harmonious collaboration how does your rhythm of connection set the beat The resounding wisdom of Frank Iero reverberates The best music happens when you have a personal connection to it As a devoted music lover and practitioner I've realized this philosophy extends far beyond melodies it's a universal truth that underscores every interaction and achievement in life Make It Personal Discover the Five Dimensions of Human Collaboration in the Workplace unravels a journey through diverse experiences As a musician the flute piano and saxophone have been my companions each whispering the importance of personal bonds From early days with a plastic Yamaha recorder to navigating cross industry corporate leadership connection weaves through every note of my life s symphony where music has been a metaphor for collaboration Life s composition ventured into technology As a senior leader orchestrating global innovation and transformation the familiar cadence of personal connection echoed why do some collaborations flourish while others falter What sparks successful relationships in a world dominated by algorithms In the crucible of these questions my pursuit evolved into an academic endeavor My exploration traversed studies culminating in a doctoral thesis that uncovered human collaboration s five dimensions Each melody like dimension intertwines creating a harmonious resonance that elevates relationships and drives innovation Leadership I ve found isn t confined to titles it emanates from the heart Minouche Shafik s words resonate In the future jobs will be about using our hearts This sentiment drives my academic exploration into a guide for nurturing workplace connections Make It Personal melds academic insight with relatable narratives Characters inspired by real experiences offer perspectives that illustrate collaboration s dimensions My anecdotes provide the delicate counterpoint that accentuates the symphony of workplace connections and transformations a journey guided by the belief that true collaboration emerges from the heart God's Character - Let's Make It Personal M. Leonna Gibson, 2020-05-07 This book is all about sharing what I ve heard from God about His character It s about introducing the significance and a means of knowing who God really is and doing away with all the assumptions logic opinions and unrealistic expectations that we have about God All these things do is create disappointment and frustration Knowing the enemies lies from God s Truth is housed at the point of knowing who you re dealing with knowing His character God made you and I for a purpose that cannot be fulfilled without Him We know we have a purpose and a reason for being here but we cannot discover that apart from knowing and trusting the One we came from None of us trust and rely on people that we don t know The best way for us to find out who He is and who we are is to go to the Source and meticulously sourced study on the topic of nuclear weapons proliferation beginning with America's introduction of the Atomic Age. His book provides a full explanation of America's policy with a time sequence necessarily focusing on the domino effect of states acquiring a nuclear weapons capability and the impact of bureaucratic decisions on international political behavior. Choice Stopping the Bomb examines the historical development and effectiveness of American efforts to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons. Nicholas L. Miller offers here a novel theory that argues changes in American nonproliferation policy are the keys to understanding the nuclear landscape from the 1960s onward. The Chinese and Indian nuclear tests in the 1960s and 1970s forced the US government, Miller contends, to pay new and considerable attention to the idea of nonproliferation and to reexamine its foreign policies. Stopping the Bomb explores the role of the United States in combating the spread of nuclear weapons, an area often ignored to date. He explains why these changes occurred and how effective US policies have been in preventing countries from seeking and acquiring nuclear weapons. Miller's findings highlight the relatively rapid move from a permissive approach toward allies acquiring nuclear weapons to a more universal nonproliferation policy, no matter whether friend or foe. Four in-depth case studies of US nonproliferation policy toward Taiwan, Pakistan, Iran, and France elucidate how the United States can compel countries to reverse ongoing nuclear weapons programs. Miller's findings in Stopping the Bomb have important implications for the continued study of nuclear proliferation, US nonproliferation policy, and beyond.

Miller, 2018-04-15 This is an intense

Teaching English in Rural Communities Robert Petrone, Allison Wynhoff Olsen, 2021-04-01 Showcasing the voices, perspectives, and experiences of rural English teachers and students, Teaching English in Rural Communities promotes equity, diversity, and inclusivity within rural education. Specifically, this book develops a Critical Rural English Pedagogy (CREP) which draws attention to issues of power, representation, and justice related to rurality. Based on the assumption that rurality is a social construct, CREP critiques deficit-laden stereotypes and renderings of rural places and people that circulate in media, popular discourse, and even education at times. In doing so, CREP opens up possibilities for educators and students to use the English classroom as a space to better understand the complex issues they face as rural people and ways to promote more nuanced and comprehensive representations of rurality. In particular, this book highlights English rural classrooms whereby students examine representations of rurality in literary and media texts, decenter dominant settler-colonist narratives of rural spaces, places, and people, develop understandings of Indigenous perspectives and cultural practices particularly related to land stewardship, and engage in local outreach to promote inclusivity within rural communities. This book also gives special attention to ways race and racism may factor into literacy education in rural contexts and possibilities for rural educators to attend to these issues.
