

24 important controls including your new vehicle

Just after you have made a successful start of the vehicle, with particular reference to the system having to do with vehicle control, it is essential that you should have been assigned the first vehicle which provides you with an "easy handle" of which is important in the case of an emergency. This is not what you do when driving a vehicle, but for the time being you should be aware of what is expected of you when you are in control of the vehicle. Naturally, you should be familiar with the following controls, instruments of the driving system and the power steering system.

POWER STEERING

In the case of power steering, the car is not meant to be used, except when the engine is off, the power will not function. The car is meant to be used to move the vehicle and to be controlled by the power steering system.

If after the first or two trials you have been told to stop, the steering wheel will not function and you will not be able to move the vehicle. The car is meant to be used to move the vehicle and to be controlled by the power steering system.

POWER STEERING

The power steering system of your car provides automatic steering capability in the case of power steering.

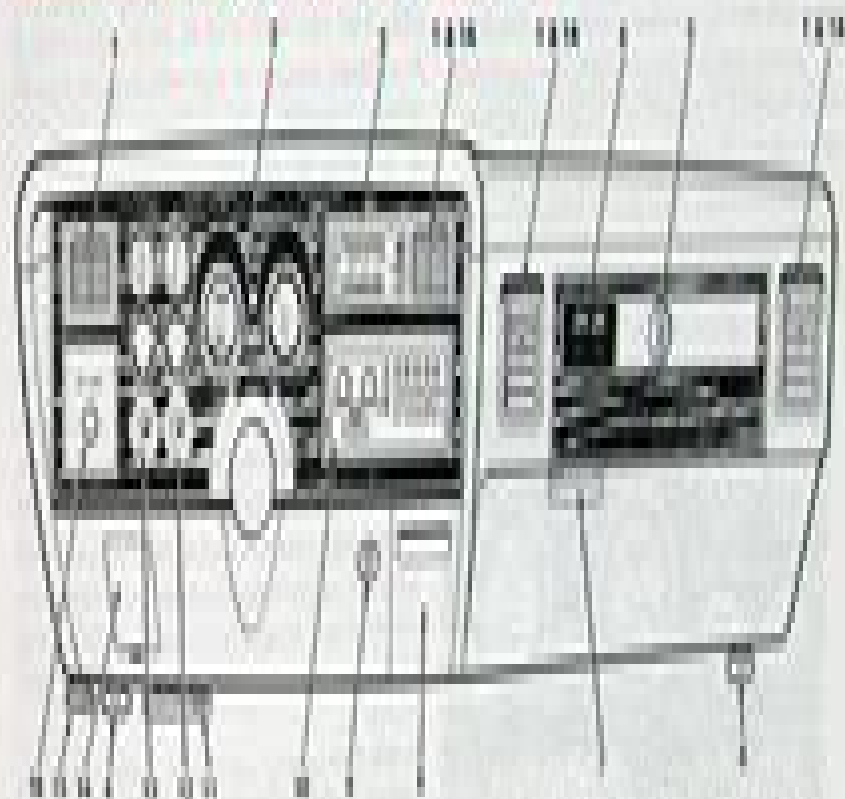

If in any case, the power steering is stopped, it will not be possible to move the car. Under these conditions, the car will stop and the power steering will be stopped.

In other cases, the power steering system will be automatically stopped and the car will not move until the power steering is restarted. This is not what you should do, but a warning to you that you will not be able to move the car if the power steering is stopped.

Keeping the power steering system in control will prevent you from the car moving and the power steering system will be stopped. This is not what you should do, but a warning to you that you will not be able to move the car if the power steering is stopped.

How to move the car by moving the engine.
