New Approaches to Ernst Lubitsch Brigitte Peucker, Ido Lewit, 2025-10-01 This exciting collection of unpublished essays on Ernst Lubitsch addresses multiple gaps in scholarly and critical engagement with the director His understudied early German films shed light on Jewish culture on the relation of comedy to gender and the influence of theatre on his filmmaking The popular historical epics brought Lubitsch an invitation to Hollywood in 1922 There Lubitsch helped develop the film musical and notably contributed to the genre of Hollywood romantic comedy The well known scholars film historians archivists and theorists whose essays appear in this volume expand our knowledge of the set designers actors directors and members of the emigr community who contributed to Lubitsch's vibrant films An emphasis on the role of material objects opens up a new dimension of critical engagement with the director Light is shed on neglected films and the antifascist dimension of his oeuvre brings his political stance clearly to light As these essays make clear Lubtisch's cinema is elusive and deserving of our close attention

World Film Locations: Malta Jean Pierre Borg, Charlie Cauchi, 2015-12-01 Malta has served as a beautiful backdrop for films for nearly as long as there has been a film industry This entry in the World Film Locations series traces the history of Malta on screen from big-budget blockbusters to modest indie pictures The locations Malta offers range widely from grand fortified harbours and stunning cliffs to quaint villages and Baroque palaces That diversity has enabled the island to double for countless locations including ancient Troy and Alexandria as well as Greece Israel and other Mediterranean and Middle Eastern regions while its well-known water tanks have proved to be perfect for shooting ocean scenes Packed with illustrations World Film Locations Malta examines a number of films made in Malta and will be a must-read for tourists, film buffs and scholars alike

Women's Cinema in Contemporary Portugal Mariana Liz, Hilary Owen, 2020-03-05 Women's Cinema in Contemporary Portugal brings together scholars from Portugal, UK and the USA to discuss 14 women film directors in Portugal focussing on their production in both feature film and documentary genres over the last half century It charts the specific cinematic visions that these women have brought to the re-emergence of Portuguese national cinema in the wake of the 1974 Revolution and African decolonisation and to the growing internationalisation of Portugal's arguably minor or small nation cinema with significant young women directors such as Leonor Teles achieving prominence abroad The history of Portuguese women's cinema only begins systematically after the 1974 revolution and democratisation This collection shows how female auteurs made their mark on Portugal's post-revolutionary conceptualisation of a differently national cinema through the ethnographic output of the late 1970s It goes on to explore women's decisively gendered interventions in the cinematic memory practices that opened up around the masculine domain of the Colonial Wars in Africa Feminist political issues such as Portugal's 30-year abortion campaign and LGBT status have become more visible since the 1990s alongside preoccupations with global concerns relating to immigration, transit and minority status communities The book also demonstrates how women have contributed to the evolution of soundscapes the genre of essay cinema film's relationship to the archive and the adaptation of the written word The result is a powerful provocative and definitive challenge to the marginalisation of Portuguese female-directed film in terms of double minority

Risk in the Film Business Michael Franklin, 2022-07-25 This book explores the complex multifaceted and contested subject of risk in the film business How risk is understood and managed has a substantial impact upon which films are financed produced and seen Founded on substantial original research accessing the highest level of industry practitioners this book examines the intertwined activity of independents large media companies including major studios the international marketplace and related audio-visual sectors such as high-end television The book shows how risk is generally framed or even intuited rather than calculated and that this process occurs across a sliding scale of formality This work goes beyond broad creative industries characterisations of a risky sector and concentrations on Box Office return modelling to provide a missing middle This means a coherent analytic coverage of business organisation and project construction to address the complex practicalities that mobilise strategic operations in relation to risk often in unseen business to business contexts Informed by economic sociology's concepts addressing market assemblage and valuation alongside applications of science and technology studies to media and communications the book respects both the powerful roles of social and institutional actors and affordances of new technologies in dealing with the persistent known unknown the audience Examining a persistent business issue in a new way this book analyses top level industry practice through established mechanisms and innovations like data analytics The result is a book that will be essential reading for scholars with an interest in the film business as well as risk management more broadly

Transnational German Cinema Irina Herrschner, Kirsten Stevens, Benjamin Nickl, 2021-08-31 This volume explores the notion of German cinema as both a national and increasingly transnational entity It brings together chapters that analyse the international circuits of development and distribution that shape the emerging films as part of a contemporary German cinema the events and spectacles that help frame and re frame national cinemas and their discoverability and the well known filmmakers who sit at the vanguard of the contemporary canon Thereby it explores what we understand as German cinema today and the many points where this idea of national cinema can be interrogated expanded and opened up to new readings At the heart of this interrogation is a keen awareness of the technological social economic and cultural changes that have an impact on global cinemas more broadly new distribution channels such as streaming platforms and online film festivals and audience engagement that transcends national borders as well as the cinema space International film production and financing further heightens the transnational aspects of cinema a quality that is often neglected in marketing and branding of the filmic product With particular focus on film festivals this volume explores the tensions between the national and transnational in film but also in the events that sit at the heart of global cinema culture It includes contributions from filmmakers cultural managers and other professionals in the field of film and cinema as well as scholarly contributions from academics researching popular culture film and events in relation to Germany

Transnational Cinema in Europe Manuel Palacio, Jörg Türschmann, 2013 The attempt to produce films for the international market has led to lively exchanges and meeting points between local and national identity discourses and global processes of identity formation Co productions alone can no longer be seen as an incentive for national cultural production Rather it is necessary to regard co productions as a privileged site for an analysis of the relations between identity nation and culture Transnational Cinema in Europe is the result of a collaboration of two research groups in Madrid and Vienna The book consists of articles by members of both research groups as well as by several other experts Series Contributions to the European Theater Film and Media Studies Beitrage zur europaischen Theater Film und Medienwissenschaft Vol 4

Caught In-Between Petho Agnes Petho, 2020-03-02 This collection of essays explores intermediality as a new perspective in the interpretation of the cinemas that have emerged after the collapse of the former Eastern bloc As an aesthetic based on a productive interaction of media and highlighting cinema's relationship with the other arts intermediality always implies a state of in betweenness which is capable of registering tensions and ambivalences that go beyond the realm of media The comparative analyses of films from Hungary Romania Poland the Czech Republic Bosnia and Herzegovina and Russia demonstrate that intermediality can be employed in this way as a form of introspection dealing with complex issues of art and society Appearing in a variety of sensuous or intellectual modes intermediality can become an effective poetic strategy to communicate how the cultures of the region are caught in between East and West past and present emotional turmoil and more detached self awareness The diverse theoretical approaches that unravel this in betweenness contribute to the understanding of intermedial phenomena in contemporary cinema as a whole
