European Competitiveness Report 2004

Jan Winiński

European Competitiveness Report 2004:

European Competitiveness Report 2006 European Commission, 2007-04 This is the 9th EC report on the competitiveness of European industry and it focuses on three of the four priorities of the reform agenda put forward at the 2006 Spring European Council knowledge and innovation unlocking business potential and an efficient and integrated energy policy It also examines the competitive position of two high technology industrial sectors in Europe relating to information and communication technology ICT goods and services and the pharmaceutical industry The report includes chapters on recent developments in growth productivity and employment in Europe the liberalisation of European energy markets the regulatory environment in the context of the Strategy for Growth and Jobs the financing of innovation the concept of lead markets in innovation policy and a statistical annex with indicators of competitiveness at sectoral level European Competitiveness

Report, 2004 Research, Quality, Competitiveness Attilio Stajano, 2008-09-22 The European Union EU was launched as a response to the economic dominance of the United States and to a lesser degree the Soviet Union The nations of Western Europe were too small to compete against large scale and diversified economies on their own Six countries eventually expanding to 27 and counting took a series of steps toward progressively deeper integration the removal of internal tariffs the construction of a common external tariff the elimination of many but not all non tariff barriers leading to a single market and the adoption of a common currency by 15 of the member states The EU today equals and even exceeds the U S on many key indicators of performance In the process two similar but nonetheless divergent models of social and economic life stand in contrast with each other The U S is more committed to capitalism and does little to dilute its harsh edges while the nations of Europe support wider social safety nets and more active regulation of commercial activity to mute the cruel aspects of the free market Until recently the economic dynamism of the U S called into question whether the so called European social model was sustainable in an era of globalization The EU was slipping in competitiveness and was being challenged by new global powerhouses like China and India Although the U S economy has slowed there is little indication that European countries are capable of leveraging the situation to their advantage OECD Economic Surveys: European

Union 2018 OECD, 2018-06-19 After years of crisis the European economy is expanding robustly and GDP growth is projected to remain strong in 2018 and 2019 With an expansion underway attention needs to shift to Europe's long term challenges Wellbeing disparities the UK vote to exit the European Union low potential Competitiveness of New Europe Jan Winiecki, 2008-08-08 Edited by a leading scholar in transition economics this book examines the nations that make up the so called New Europe to look at the economic competitiveness in comparison with each other and the rest of Europe

European Competitiveness Report European Commission, 2004 Staying Competitive in the Global Economy Compendium of Studies on Global Value Chains OECD, 2008-06-11 This volume is a compilation of the studies that underlie the synthesis report on global value chains entitled Staying Competitive in the Global Economy Moving Up the Value

Chain Regional Competitiveness Ron Martin, Michael Kitson, Peter Tyler, 2012-11-12 There is now a wide spread interest in regions as a key focus in the organization and governance of economic growth and wealth creation This important book considers the factors that influence and shape the competitive performance of regions This is not just an issue of academic interest and debate but also of increasing policy deliberation and action However as the readings in this book make clear the very idea of regional competitiveness is itself complex and contentious Many academics and policy makers have used the concept without fully considering what is meant by the term and how it can be measured Policy formulation has tended to rush ahead of understanding and analysis and the purpose of this book is to close this important gap in understanding This book was previously published as a special issue of Regional Studies Competitiveness and Private Sector Development Sector Specific Sources of Competitiveness in the Western Balkans Recommendation for a Regional Investment Strategy OECD, 2009-05-14 This report examines the apparel automotive components and business process technology outsourcing sectors in the western Balkans focusing on competitiveness factors and including policy recommendations European Foreign Policy in an Evolving International System N. Casarini, C. Musu, 2007-08-09 European Foreign Policy in an Evolving International System provides the reader with an updated assessment of European Foreign Policy fifteen years after Maastricht The contributions analyze the level of policy convergence achieved by EU member states in crucial areas and regions of the world
