We Do Language Anne H. Charity-Hudley, Christine Mallinson, 2013-12-13 We Do Language builds on the authors highly acclaimed first collaboration Understanding English Language Variation in U S Schools and examines the need to integrate linguistically informed teaching into the secondary English classroom The book meets three critical goals for preparing English educators to ensure the academic success of their students First the book helps educators acquire a greater knowledge of language variation so they may teach their students to analyze the social cultural and linguistic dimensions of the texts they read in class Second the chapters provide specific information about language varieties that students bring with them to school so that educators can better assist students in developing the literacy skills necessary for the Common Core State Standards Third the text empowers educators to build their linguistic awareness so they may more fully understand respect and meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse students We Do Language features concrete strategies models and vignettes as well as classroom materials developed by English educators for English educators It is essential reading for anyone interested in learning about the role that language plays in the experiences of students both in secondary and postsecondary environments Full of advice and support for walking hand in hand with students into imaginative ways of understanding the realities of language variation this book is pure joy for teachers and college counselors Even more important is the guarantee that when these educators embrace the humanity and philosophy so touchingly illustrated by the authors the intrigue of thinking deeply about speaking writing and reading is sure to follow for students Shirley Brice Heath Margery Bailey Professor of English Dramatic Literature and Professor of Linguistics Emerita Stanford University We Do Language is an enabling tool for helping teachers and those who prepare them to face perhaps better than we ever have the challenge of schooling in the English language arts for the 21st century From the Foreword by Jacqueline Jones Royster Ivan Allen Chair in Liberal Arts and Technology and Dean Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts Georgia Institute of Technology Long overdue and much needed African American English is here to stay and this book affirms and supports educators and African American students their language and their culture I can't thank the authors enough for writing this powerful thought provoking and critical analysis of language variation Donna Ford Harvie Branscomb Distinguished Professor of Special Education and Teaching and Learning Peabody College of Education Vanderbilt University Anne H Charity Hudley is associate professor of education English linguistics and Africana studies at the College of William Mary in Williamsburg Virginia Christine Mallinson is associate professor in the Language Literacy and Culture Program and affiliate associate professor in the Gender and Women's Studies Program at the University of Maryland Baltimore County UMBC

Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard argues that composition still retains the bulk of instructional practices that were used in the decades before poststructuralist theory discredited them While acknowledging that some of the foundational insights of poststructuralist theory can be difficult to translate to the classroom Barnard upends several especially intransigent tenets that continue to influence the teaching of writing and how students are encouraged to understand writing Using six major principles of writing classrooms and textbooks clarity intent voice ethnography audience and objectivity Barnard looks at the implications of poststructuralist theory for pedagogy While suggesting some evocative poststructuralist pedagogical practices the author focuses on diagnosing the fault lines of composition s refusal of poststructuralism rather than on providing solutions in the form of teaching templates Upsetting Composition Commonplaces addresses the need to more effectively engage in poststructuralist concepts in composition in an accessible and engaging voice that will advance the conversation about relations between the theory and teaching of writing [The Works of Thomas Reid ...
