Examines how popular fairy tales collapse narrative borders and reimagine the genre for the twenty first century Mapping Fairy Tale Space Pastiche and Metafiction in Borderless Tales by Christy Williams uses the metaphor of mapping to examine the narrative strategies employed in popular twenty first century fairy tales It analyzes the television shows Once Upon a Time and Secret Garden a Korean drama the young adult novel series The Lunar Chronicles the Indexing serial novels and three experimental short works of fiction by Kelly Link Some of these texts reconfigure well known fairy tales by combining individual tales into a single storyworld others self referentially turn to fairy tales for guidance These contemporary tales have at their center a crisis about the relevance and sustainability of fairy tales and Williams argues that they both engage the fairy tale as a relevant genre and remake it to create a new kind of fairy tale Mapping Fairy Tale Space is divided into two parts Part 1 analyzes fairy tale texts that collapse multiple distinct fairy tales so they inhabit the same storyworld transforming the fairy tale genre into a fictional geography of borderless tales Williams examines the complex narrative restructuring enabled by this form of mash up and expands postmodern arguments to suggest that fairy tale pastiche is a critical mode of retelling that celebrates the fairy tale genre while it critiques outdated ideological constructs Part 2 analyzes the metaphoric use of fairy tales as maps or guides for lived experience In these texts characters use fairy tales both to navigate and to circumvent their own situations but the tales are ineffectual maps until the characters chart different paths and endings for themselves or reject the tales as maps altogether Williams focuses on how inventive narrative and visual storytelling techniques enable metafictional commentary on fairy tales in the texts themselves Mapping Fairy Tale Space argues that in remaking the fairy tale genre these texts do not so much chart unexplored territory as they approach existing fairy tale space from new directions remapping the genre as our collective use of fairy tales changes Students and scholars of

Seventeenth-Century French Fairy Tales Bronwyn Reddan,2020-12 Love is a key ingredient in the stereotypical fairy tale ending in which everyone lives happily ever after This romantic formula continues to influence contemporary ideas about love and marriage but it ignores the history of love as an emotion that shapes and is shaped by hierarchies of power including gender class education and social status This interdisciplinary study questions the idealization of love as the ultimate happy ending by showing how the conteuses the women writers who dominated the first French fairy tale vogue in the 1690s used the fairy tale genre to critique the power dynamics of courtship and marriage Their tales do not sit comfortably in the fairy tale canon as they explore the good the bad and the ugly effects of love and marriage on the lives of their heroines Bronwyn Reddan argues that the conteuses scripts for love emphasize the importance of gender in determining the right way to love in seventeenth century France Their version of fairy tale love is historical and contingent rather than universal and timeless This conversation about love compels revision of the happily ever after narrative and offers incisive commentary on the gendered scripts for the performance of love in courtship and marriage in seventeenth century France Less Is More in Elementary School Renee Rubin,Michelle Abrego,John Sutterby,2014-10-10 In this era
