Psychological perspectives on expertise Guillermo Campitelli, Michael H Connors, Merim Bilalić, David Zachary Hambrick, 2015-05-19 Experts are persons who are very knowledgeable about or skillful in a particular area The aim of this Research Topic is to advance knowledge in the understanding of the phenomenon of expertise by putting together different lines of research that directly or indirectly study expertise Herbert Simon's expertise studies initiated two lines of research One is interested in elucidating the cognitive processes underlying expertise and the other investigates how expertise develops These lines of research started with studies comparing experts and novices in chess and then they extended to numerous areas of expertise such as music medical diagnosis sports arts and sciences In the field of judgment and decision making researchers investigate the quality of judgments and decisions of experts in different professions e.g. clinical psychologists medical practitioners judges meteorologists stock brokers Those lines of research explicitly investigate the topic of expertise but there are other research areas that make a substantial contribution to understanding expertise Scholars in language acquisition and in face perception for example investigate cognitive processes and development of expertise in areas in which almost everyone becomes an expert Furthermore skill acquisition research informs in detail about short term cognitive changes that may be important to understand how expertise develops We are interested in original research that advances knowledge in the understanding of decision making cognitive processes and development of expertise in sports intellectual games arts scientific disciplines and professions as well as expertise in cognitive abilities such as perception memory attention language and imagery We are also interested in theoretical articles in any of these areas articles that describe computational or mathematical models of expertise and articles offering a framework that would guide expertise research Articles that offer integrative approaches of some of the areas described above are strongly encouraged The goal of this Research Topic is to produce a hallmark piece of work in the field of expertise which complements and does not overlap with the Neural implementations of expertise Research Topic in Frontiers in Human Neuroscience The Pragmatist Joseph P. Viteritti, 2017-08-03 The two main characters of Joseph P Viteritti's The Pragmatist Bill de Blasio and New York City itself are used to tell the story of the rise fall and rebirth of progressivism in America's major urban center and in the process introduce us to the contributions and distractions of every mayor since La Guardia demonstrating that the road to progress was never a direct journey Linguistic Influences on Mathematical Cognition Ann Dowker, Hans-Christoph Nuerk, 2017-06-16 For many years an abstract amodal semantic magnitude representation largely independent of verbal linguistic representations has been viewed as the core numerical or mathematical representation. This assumption has been substantially challenged in recent years. Linguistic properties affect not only verbal representations of numbers but also numerical magnitude representation, spatial magnitude representations, calculation parity representation, place value representation, and even early number acquisition. Thus we postulate that numerical and arithmetic processing are not fully independent of linguistic processing. This is not to say that in patients magnitude processing cannot function independently of linguistic processing; we just suppose these functions are connected in the functioning brain. So far much research about linguistic influences on numerical cognition has simply demonstrated that language influences number without investigating the level at which a particular language influence operates. After an overview we present new findings on language influences on seven language levels: Conceptual, Conceptual properties of language, Syntactic, The grammatical structure of languages beyond the word level, influences Semantic, The semantic meaning or existence of words, Lexical, The lexical composition of words in particular number words, Visuo spatial orthographic, Orthographic properties such as the writing reading direction of a language, Phonological, Phonological phonetic properties of languages, Other language related skills, Verbal working memory and other cognitive skills related to language representations. We hope that this book provides a new and structured overview on the exciting influences of linguistic processing on numerical cognition at almost all levels of language processing.
