Healing Creek A Love Story English Edition:

Middle Passages and the Healing Place of History Elizabeth Brown-Guillory, 2006 Middle Passages and the Healing Place of History Migration and Identity in Black Women's Literature brings together a series of essays addressing black women's fragmented identities and quests for wholeness. The individual essays concern culturally specific experiences of blacks in select African countries, England, the Caribbean, the United States, and Canada. They examine identity struggles by establishing the Middle Passage as the first site of identity rupture and the subsequent break from cultural and historical moorings. In most cases, the authors themselves have migrated from their places of origin to new spaces that present challenges. Their narratives replicate the displacement engendered by their own experiences of living with the complexities of diasporic existence. Their female characters, many of whom participate in multiple border crossings, work to define themselves within a hostile environment. In nearly every essay, the female characters struggle against multiple yokes of oppression, giving voice to what it means to be black, female, poor, old, and alone. The subjects' migrations and journeys are analyzed as attempts to heal the displacement, both physical and psychological, that results from dislocation and relocation from the homeland, imagined variously as Africa. This volume reveals that black women across the globe share a common ground fraught with struggles, but the narratives bear out that these women are not easily divided and that they stand upon each other's shoulders, dispensing healing balms. Black women's history and herstory commingle the trauma that ensued when Africans were loaded onto ships in chains; continues to haunt black women and men too wherever they find themselves in this present moment of the Diaspora.

You Are My Happy Ending Emily Garside, 2024-01-15 From the show's modest beginnings to its massive Emmy sweep, You Are My Happy Ending tells the story of how Schitt's Creek became the surprise hit that changed the way we think about LGBTQ relationships. Cultural analyst Emily Garside shows how this series fused classic romcom and sitcom tropes to create a world with a queer love story at its core, starting with Daniel Levy, the co-creator who plays David. She examines the show's Canadian identity and its diverse incorporation of references from literature, Brideshead Revisited to cinema, Hitchcock's The Birds, as well as numerous romantic comedy texts. Schitt's Creek is an homage to all these elements of the past literary and cinematic canon while also creating an important contemporary narrative of its own. Most importantly, Garside delves into the references to queer icons and culture from Cabaret to drag. How did this supposedly light comedy embrace an activist perspective? And how does it use and subvert its romantic comedy genre in order to make that activism even more powerful? Combining a fan's affection with a scholar's insight, Garside explains how this little show that could is the product of a long history of queer activism, breaking down barriers and marking a turning point in future representation of LGBTQ stories.

Iftekharrudin,Joseph Boyden,Mary Rohrberger,Jaie Claudet,2003-12-30 Short stories are usually defined in terms of characteristics of modernism in which the story begins in the middle develops according to a truncated plot and ends with an epiphany This approach tends to ignore postmodernism a movement often characterized by a negation of objective reality where plots are seemingly abandoned surfaces are extraordinary and symbols turn inward on themselves This book examines postmodern forms and characteristic themes by analyzing a group of short stories that make use of postmodern narrative strategies including nonfictional fiction gender profiling and death as an image The volume begins with a discussion of the blurred lines between fiction and nonfiction in the short story and imaginative personal essay It then looks at the role of women in works by such authors as Sandra Cisneros Leslie Marmon Silko Joyce Carol Oates and Lorrie Moore This is followed by a section of chapters on postmodern masculinity and short fiction The next section focuses on death as an image and theme in works by Richard Ford Richard Brautigan and James Joyce The final set of chapters considers postmodern short fiction from South Africa and Canada The Whole Story Brenda Andrews,2002-02 Rachael is an average mother in an average world Troubled by a state of depression She had suppressed feelings dating back to her childhood She had come from a dysfunctional family so alcoholism and from that also physical and emotional abuse and survived to tell about it in hope that others will rethink their choices Book Chat William George Jordan,Adr Schade van Westrum,1886

Battlegrounds and Crossroads Maria Antònia Oliver-Rotger,2003-01-01 Of interest to informed readers responsive to combined textual and cultural approaches to Chicano a literature and literature in general Battleground and Crossroads weaves in various critical and theoretical threads to inquire into the relationship between intimate and public spaces in Chicana literature Without claiming the borderlands as exclusive of the Chicana o imagination this book acknowledges the importance of this metaphor for bringing to view a more intercultural United States allowing it to become inflected with the particularity of each text The analyses of Chicana fiction drama and autobiography explore the construction of identity through the representation of social space and the transformation of literary space For discussion of a diacritical territory this volume draws on an interdisciplinary practice that facilitates the journey from the most intimate spaces to the most public spaces of modernity so that the aesthetic text yields its knowledge of the contingent historical circumstances of its production in material and existential terms The apparent regionalism and localism of this literature is nothing but a reflection of the relationship between the local and the global the private and the public the personal and the political the aesthetic and the ideological the subversive and the mainstream Each text stands by itself while it also reaches out to the sociopolitical imaginary for interpretation through an interdisciplinary methodology that is indispensable to do justice to a politicized aesthetics

The Last Ghost Dance Brooke Medicine Eagle, 2009-03-04 In the celebrated Buffalo Woman Comes Singing Brooke Medicine Eagle revealed her extraordinary spiritual odyssey from her first guided steps on the medicine path to her ongoing work as one of the most respected Native American teachers of the modern era Now she shares a groundbreaking approach to spiritual transformation by revitalizing the powerful ancient ritual The Ghost Dance Four centuries ago when European invaders were ruthlessly plundering indigenous cultures a Paiute tribesman received a vision of hope and resurrection given by Father Spirit to help survivors of the onslaught create a beautiful new life in the face of defeat broken dreams and death That vision was celebrated in an ecstatic ghost dance honoring those who had perished Brooke Medicine Eagle explains how and why we are profoundly connected to The Ghost Dance As she herself becomes initiated into the illusion of death and the wisdom of heart centered ascension she teaches us how to confront our deepest fears overcome our resistance to change and renew our lives Through prayer music and dance Medicine Eagle provides us with the tools to bring about the final fulfillment of this profound ritual by living in harmony with earth's rhythms practicing sustainable living honoring and sharing with all our relations and freeing ourselves from the burden of possessions and possessiveness Perceptive practical and luminous The Last Ghost Dance is a call to action a challenge to raise up from the ashes of our desecrated planet a world that welcomes the full flowering of the spirit and a new age of abundance love and peace
