Heated Hearts A Scarred Hearts Short Story:

Heated Hearts Felicia Tatum, 2015-01-29 Two heated hearts collide in one hot New Orleans event Leela Taymon fills in for her cousin Francesca at the event of a lifetime set in New Orleans Dressed to impress she does her best to pretend to be her cousin while fighting her desires for the man she's falling in love with This short story is from the Dauntless Indies From the Ashes Anthology The Short Stories Langston Hughes, 2002 For the first time in many years Langston Hughes's published collections of stories are now available in a single book Included in this volume are Ways of White Folks originally published in 1934 Laughing to Keep from Crying originally published in 1952 and additional stories from Something in Common and Other Stories originally published in 1963 as well as previously uncollected stories These fictions carefully crafted in the language Hughes loved manifest the many themes for which he is best known We meet and come to know many characters black and white young and old men and women all as believable as our own families friends and acquaintances Hughes's stories portray people as they actually are a mixture of good bad and much in between In these short stories as in the Simple stories the reader enjoys Hughes's humor and irony The stories show us his inclination to mock himself and his beloved people as much as he ridicules the flaws of those who belittle his race His genuine characters interact and realistically bring to life this era of America's past By maintaining the form and format of the original story collections this volume presents Hughes's stories as he wanted them to be read This volume will be an invaluable addition to the library of anyone interested in African American literature generally and the fiction of Langston Hughes specifically
