uticas son influidas por la edad cronológica y por las comorbilidades que padecen este tipo de pacientes lo que genera muchos casos tratados con terapias subóptimas ocasionando un mal control de la enfermedad neoplásica. Esta obra hace una llamada de atención para generar conciencia acerca del envejecimiento poblacional y argumenta que considerar la edad cronológica como único parámetro para no otorgar un tratamiento oncológico adecuado es un error. Hay parámetros con mejores argumentos para mostrar la edad biológica y las expectativas de sobrevida a corto y mediano plazos que permiten una mejor evaluación y la posibilidad de tolerancia de los diferentes tratamientos oncológicos.
