Numerical Correlation between Impact Factor and Web Ranking of Electronic Scientific Journals Using Regression Analysis Giorgos Kouropoulos, Γιώργος Κουρόπουλος, 2017-12-15 The present study attempts to examine the numerical correlation between web ranking of electronic scientific journals and impact factor of these journals using the method of regression analysis Regression analysis allows the option of investigating and predicting the numerical relationship between website ranking of scientific journals on the World Wide Web and the value of impact factor of the journals A sample of 57 publishers with 6 272 scientific journals and 50 standalone scientific journals was analyzed during research procedure In this study two different indicators about websites classification on World Wide Web were examined separately for 57 publishers and 50 standalone journals Alexa rank and Statscrops rank The electronic databases

through the internet constitute the main information resources of this study about the impact factors The general conclusion that arises is that the impact factor of electronic scientific journals illustrates a very strong positive correlation with classification of websites on the World Wide Web Furthermore it is concluded that the change of web ranking as a function of impact factor is governed by a Gaussian function or rational function with lower Pearson coefficient and presents non linearly correlation Even if there is very strong correlation between impact factor and web rank for electronic journals the prediction of impact factor from web rank is not possible and presents many divergences

Gaming the Metrics Mario Biagioli, Alexandra Lippman, 2020-01-28 How the increasing reliance on metrics to evaluate scholarly publications has produced new forms of academic fraud and misconduct The traditional academic imperative to publish or perish is increasingly coupled with the newer necessity of impact or perish the requirement that a publication have impact as measured by a variety of metrics including citations views and downloads Gaming the Metrics examines how the increasing reliance on metrics to evaluate scholarly publications has produced radically new forms of academic fraud and misconduct The contributors show that the metrics based audit culture has changed the ecology of research fostering the gaming and manipulation of quantitative indicators which lead to the invention of such novel forms of misconduct as citation rings and variously rigged peer reviews The chapters written by both scholars and those in the trenches of academic publication provide a map of academic fraud and misconduct today They consider such topics as the shortcomings of metrics the gaming of impact factors the emergence of so called predatory journals the salami slicing of scientific findings the rigging of global university rankings and the creation of new watchdogs and forensic practices

Seeking Impact and Visibility Trotter, Henry, Kell, Catherine, 2014-06-12 African scholarly research is relatively invisible globally because even though research production on the continent is growing in absolute terms it is falling in comparative terms In addition traditional metrics of visibility such as the Impact Factor fail to make legible all African scholarly production Many African universities also do not take a strategic approach to scholarly communication to broaden the reach of their scholars work To address this challenge the Scholarly Communication in Africa Programme SCAP was established to help raise the visibility of African scholarship by mapping current research and communication practices in Southern African universities and by recommending and piloting technical and administrative innovations based on open access dissemination principles To do this SCAP conducted extensive research in four faculties at the Universities of

Traducci n parcial de la Introducci n En la actualidad la evaluaci n de la investigaciones es una cuesti n que se est replanteando en todo el mundo En algunos casos los trabajos de investigaci n est n generando resultados muy buenos en la mayor a de los casos los resultados son mediocres y en algunos casos negativos Por todo esto la evaluaci n de los resultados de la investigaci n se convierte en una condici n sine qua non Cuando el n mero de investigadores eran menos eran los propios colegas de profesi n quienes evaluaban la investigaci n Con el paso del tiempo el n mero de investigadores aument las reas de investigaci n proliferaron los resultados de la investigaci n se multiplicaron La tendencia continu y despu s de la

Segunda Guerra Mundial la investigación comenzó a crecer exponencialmente. Hoy en día incluso en una estimación moderada hay alrededor de más de un millón de investigadores y producen más de dos millones de trabajos de investigación y otros documentos por año. En este contexto la evaluación de la investigación es una cuestión de primera importancia. Para cualquier promoción, acreditación, premio y beca puede haber decenas o cientos de nominados. De entre estos seleccionar el mejor candidato es una cuestión difícil de determinar. Las evaluaciones inter pares en muchos casos están demostrando ser subjetivas. En 1963 se crea Science Citation Index (SCI) que cubre la literatura científica desde 1961. Unos años después Eugene Garfield, fundador del SCI, preparó una lista de los 50 autores científicos más citados basándose en las citas que recibió el trabajo de un autor por parte de los trabajos de otros colegas de investigación. El documento titulado "Pueden predecirse los ganadores del Premio Nobel" fue publicado en 1968 por Garfield y Malin. En el siguiente año es decir 1969 dos científicos que figuran en la lista, por ejemplo Derek H.R. Barton y Murray Gell-Mann, recibieron el codiciado premio. Esto reivindicó la utilidad del análisis de citas. Cada año varios científicos pertenecientes al campo de la Física, Química, Fisiología y Medicina reciben el Premio Nobel. De esta manera el análisis de citas se convirtió en una herramienta útil. Sin embargo el análisis de citas siempre tuvo críticas y múltiples fallas. Incluso Garfield comentó: "El uso del análisis de citas de los trabajos de evaluación es una tarea difícil". Existen muchas posibilidades de error. Garfield (1983) para la evaluación de la investigación se necesitaban algunos otros indicadores. El análisis de citas junto con la revisión por pares garantiza el mejor juicio en innumerables casos. Pero se necesita algo que sea más exacto. La llegada de la World Wide Web (WWW) brindó la oportunidad, pues un buen número de indicadores se están generando a partir de los datos disponibles en la WWW. Trad. Julio Alonso Arvalo, Univ. Salamanca.

Global Academic Publishing Mary Jane Curry, Theresa Lillis, 2017-11-22. This book reports on the state of academic journal publishing in a range of geolinguistic contexts including locations where pressures to publish in English have developed more recently than in other parts of the world, e.g. Kazakhstan, Colombia, in addition to contexts that have not been previously explored or well documented. The three sections push the boundaries of existing research on global publishing which has mainly focused on how scholars respond to pressures to publish in English by highlighting research on evaluation policies, journals' responses in non-Anglophone contexts to pressures for English medium publishing and pedagogies for supporting scholars in their publishing efforts. Handbook on Research Assessment in the Social Sciences Engels, Tim C.E., Kulczycki, Emanuel, 2022-04-19. This Handbook provides a comprehensive overview of current developments, issues and good practices regarding assessment in social science research. It pays particular attention to the challenges in evaluation policies in the social sciences as well as to the specificities of publishing in the area.
