In the past few decades, the number of people who have been infected with HIV has increased significantly. This is due to a variety of factors, including the spread of the virus through sexual contact, blood transfusions, and sharing of needles.
 The World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that there are approximately 33 million people living with HIV worldwide.
 The virus is a leading cause of death and disability, and it has a significant impact on the global economy.
