Irrational and Overrated: Is Our Unrealistic Self-Perception Connected to Educational Achievements? Dominik Piehlmaier, 2013-08 This book examines the relationship between education and excessive confidence in situations of uncertainty For this purpose a questionnaire with 10 pseudo general knowledge questions was designed whereby their degree of difficulty exceeds the knowledge of an average student by far It was investigated whether subjects N 535 would acknowledge this condition and its associated nescience If that is the case they will answer the 10 questions within an extremely wide confidence interval in order to meet the predefined 90% accuracy requirement The focus of investigation was in Southern Germany as the school system regularly receives top marks in national educational rankings In addition to the empirical study the paper defines the distortion of judgment and identifies its relevant factors It gives a detailed explanation of the German education system and states the criticism of the concept of overconfidence The paper concludes with a recommendation for action and ventures a look ahead The main intention of the study is to identify a possible factor which influences human behavior towards a biased decision making process It is crucial to understand all relevant factors in order to take actions against the negative effects of overconfidence

The Emotional Life of Postmodern Film Pansy Duncan, 2015-11-19 Emotion and Postmodernism is it possible to imagine an odder couple stranger bedfellows less bad company The Emotional Life of Postmodern Film brings this unlikely pair into sustained dialogue arguing that the interdisciplinary body of scholarship currently emerging under the rubric of affect theory may be unexpectedly enriched by an encounter with the field that has become its critical other Across a series of radical re appraisals of canonical postmodern texts from Fredric Jameson's Postmodernism to David Cronenberg's Crash Duncan shows that the same postmodern archive that has proven resistant to strongly subject based and object oriented emotions like anger and sadness proves all too congenial to a series of idiosyncratic borderline emotions from knowingness fascination and bewilderment to boredom and euphoria The analysis of these emotions in turn promises to shake up scholarly consensus on two key counts On the one hand it will restructure our sense of the place and role of emotion in a critical enterprise that has long cast it as the stodgy subjective sister of a supposedly more critically interesting and politically productive affect On the other it will transform our perception of postmodernism as a now historical aesthetic and theoretical moment teaching us to acknowledge more explicitly and to name more clearly the emotional life that energizes it

Lessons and Legacies VI Peter Hayes, Jeffrey Diefendorf, Dagmar Herzog, Holocaust Educational Foundation, 1991 In the courtroom and the classroom in popular media public policy and scholarly pursuits the Holocaust its origins its nature and its implications remains very much a matter of interest debate and controversy Arriving at a time when a new generation must come to terms with the legacy of the Holocaust or forever lose the benefit of its historical social and moral lessons this volume offers a richly varied deeply informed perspective on the practice interpretation and direction of Holocaust research now and in the future In their essays the authors an international group including eminent senior scholars as well those who represent the future of the field set the agenda for Holocaust studies in the coming years even as they give readers the means for understanding today s news and views of the Holocaust whether in court cases involving victims and perpetrators international national and corporate developments or fictional documentary and historical accounts Several of the essays such as one on nonarmed amidah or resistance and others on the role of gender in the behavior of perpetrators and victims provide innovative and potentially significant interpretive frameworks for the field of Holocaust studies Others for instance the rounding up of Jews in Italy Nazi food policy in Eastern Europe and Nazi anti Jewish scholarship emphasize the importance of new sources for reconstructing the historical record Still others including essays on the 1964 Frankfurt trial of Auschwitz guards and on the response of the Catholic Church to the question of German guilt bring a new depth and sophistication to highly charged sharply politicized topics Together these essays will inform the future of the Holocaust in scholarly research and in popular understanding
