Davidson, Diane McDiarmid, Jean M. Higbee, 2012-02-23 Since the first printing of Pathways to Recovery people immediately worked to start groups with little guidance on how to do it Some were held in formal settings while others were conducted with just two or three people in someone's living room In most participants found themselves completing the exercises discussing the quotations or even arguing about whether certain topics should be included in one chapter or another With so many formats emerging determining how to create a facilitator's guide was quite a challenge The current guide is designed to be easy to navigate and use even for first time group facilitators Modules include the following An overview and goals for the topic Recommended readings materials and handouts Specific tips for facilitators and notes to guide each session Detailed agendas with suggested activities The guide gives group leaders all the information needed to facilitate a Pathways to Recovery group including tips on how to adapt the sessions to meet specific needs While some groups have taken over a year to cover all the material in the workbook still others have found it possible to cover one chapter a week In whatever way you decide to conduct your local group the material found in this guide will be helpful to you The Leadership Challenge Workshop James M. Kouzes, Barry Z. Posner, 2005-09-23 This comprehensive Facilitator's Guide includes detailed instructions suggested experiential activities audio video clips and facilitator scripts for 16 hours and 24 hours of training While the ample instructions make for a turn key solution the program also allows for and encourages customization points that enable facilitators to tailor the program for their particular audience or situation You will find everything needed to create a powerful designed learning program that is grounded in The Five Practices of Exemplary Leadership Model the Way Inspire a Shared Vision Challenge the Process Enable Others to Act Encourage the Heart Teams for a New Generation Mark Rose, 2007-10-12 There has been much written about teams with an ongoing debate about the primacy of environment or dynamics as the most important element to effective teams Yet the need for groups to be able to consistently tap into the collective intelligence present in the team is more and more important This requires teams to move beyond cooperation goodwill and consensus and be able to challenge individual and collective assumptions to see new alternatives This book provides a simple but elegant model to understand how teams move past the mediocrity of consensus to innovative thinking that comes with Collective Learning Collective Learning occurs when teams become aware of their assumptions and it challenges them to create a new understanding of what is real and what is important When that happens lasting change can come from within the team There are four distinct abilities that must be present to provide the infrastructure for a group to learn collectively and here is the how to to dramatically increase team effectiveness This book is focused on how a facilitator can help groups and the individuals in those groups slow down the emotional and belief processes in order to create opportunities to choose responses rather than being on automatic pilot The purpose of the facilitator's effort is to move experiential learning beyond the traditional notion of teambuilding Teambuilding has become a catchall phrase for helping a group get more comfortable with one another and develop trust It is our opinion that to unlock the power of these experiential tools facilitators must think about developing two Meta skills Emotional Maturity and Critical Thinking Using experiential learning to develop the attitudes and skills to continually learn provides a real hope for creating fundamental change in the way people and groups interact Facilitator's Guide to Participatory Decision-making Sam Kaner, Lenny Lind, 1996 Facilitator's Guide to Inquire Within Douglas Llewellyn, 2008-11-26 Leadership Practices Inventory James M.
