From the Fifteenth District Mavis Gallant, 2014-12-16 A fine tuned and elegant collection from the prize winning author of Paris Stories Kirkus Reviews Mavis Gallant has a unique talent for distilling the sense of otherness one feels abroad into something tangible and utterly understandable In this collection she relates the stories of those stranded in relationships places and even times in which they don t belong In The Moslem Wife a woman is entrusted to look after a hotel in France when her husband is trapped in America after the breakout of World War II As the situation progresses the two grow in surprising and profound ways In another tale a German prisoner of war is released from France and returns home to a mother whose personality has been as irrevocably changed by the war as his has In one of the most poignant entries Gallant follows the life of a Holocaust survivor illustrating how his experiences tint his outlook on life forty years later With its wide breadth of subject matter and the author s characteristic way with nuance From the Fifteenth District is classic Mavis Gallant

From The Fifteenth District Mavis Gallant, 2011-06-22 Set in Europe in the aftermath of the Second World War the nine stories in this glittering collection reflect on the foibles and dilemmas of human relationships An English family goes to the south of France for the sake of the father s health and to get away from an England of rationing and poverty A displaced person turned French soldier in Algeria now makes a living as an actor in Paris A group of selfish English expatriates on the Italian Riviera are incredulous that Mussolini and the Germans may affect their lives A great writer s quiet widow blossoms in widowhood to the surprise and alarm of her children who send a ten year old grandson to Switzerland to keep her company one Christmas Full of wry humour and penetrating insights this is Mavis Gallant at her most unforgettable The

Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re reading of women s writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years This is an opportunity for stock taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women s writing From the Fifteenth District Mavis Gallant, 2001 Ranging in time and background from the Italian Riviera in the 1930 s to Berlin in the early 1970 s these stories explore with consummate artistry the disparity between appearance and reality and misunderstandings between people Transient Questions ,2021-09-20 Mavis Gallant has been a leading literary figure in Canada since her first short story published in 1951 and has grown to be considered internationally as a modern master of the genre Her writing is nuanced sensitive gifted deep and concise She leaves everything open for the hidden potential that can always be discovered Times change society history politics may develop out of recognition Cultures metamorphose Literary landscapes and theories are renewed But the classics of our time stay where they are pillars of that which is solidly about us Mavis Gallant's work is of that calibre her writing will remain interesting and relevant no matter what else happens This book is an exploration of what Gallant's readers are thinking now where they place her in the panorama of literature and what meaning she has for them now Scholars continue to probe into the stories their characters the capsules of history they present and continue to find them challenging As with Shakespeare no amount of scrutiny will yield the final answer That is how complex Gallant's writing is Especially now when the positioning of her characters is a more prominent condition in general we need to review Gallant's artistic insights As Francine Prose says in Harper's Magazine Gallant's cast of characters are a motley assortment of refugees fugitives and travelers and displaced persons scrambling on the margins of a society they will never belong to This is the modern condition As with other great writers Gallant shows herself to be prophetic in cutting down to the roots of the sensibility of our era We are reading her work and we are thinking about it and talking about it This book is part of that large conversation Contributors are Neil Besner Di Brandt Nicole C t John Lent Gerald Lynch Maria No lle Ng Peter Stevens Simone Vauthier Per Winther

The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2017-04-20 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro

A Dictionary of Writers and their Works Christopher Riches, Michael Cox, 2015-01-29 Over 3 200 entries An essential guide to authors and their works that focuses on the general canon of British literature from the fifteenth century to the present There is also some coverage of non fiction such as biographies memoirs and science as well as inclusion of major American and Commonwealth writers This online exclusive new edition adds 60 000 new words including over 50 new entries dealing with authors who have risen to prominence in the last five years as well as fully updating the entries that currently exist Each entry provides details of a writer's nationality and birth death dates followed by a listing of their titles arranged chronologically by date of publication

Learning to Look Lesley D. Clement, 2000-04-01 In Learning to Look Lesley Clement traces the evolution of Mavis Gallant's visually evocative style through five decades of her short fictional works From her earliest explorations of displacement and the disparity between perception and reality through her later explorations of memory and history to her more recent explorations of the role of culture in a contemporary world where commercialism and madness threaten to extinguish the potential for illumination and enlightenment Gallant envisages and renders her fictional world with the techniques analogous to those of visual artists Clement shows us that Gallant's fiction of the 1940s and 1950s exhibits a keen interest in perspective and proportion achieved through concentration on line that her fiction of the 1960s and early 1970s reveals a heightened interest in composition achieved through a focus on framing proportion and form or shape and that her fiction after the mid 1970s demonstrates the full realization of her art through attention to colour and light Gallant increasingly explores the boundaries between visible and invisible worlds as the lines shapes and colours suggested by her allusions analogies and structures give her fiction the perspective proportion density and fluidity that illuminate the printed page and challenge us as readers Alert to visual cues in Gallant's fiction we acquire a heightened perception of the manifold richness of worlds and lives that might otherwise have been relegated to the unseen and unsung Short Story Index, 1999 The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Going Ashore Mavis Gallant, 2010-04-06 One of the world's great short story writers emerges with a selection of stories from her past a trove of hidden treasures Mavis Gallant moved from Montreal to Paris in 1950 to write short stories for a living Since then she has continued to write producing a remarkable body of work In 1993 Robertson Davies said She has written many short stories My calculation suggests that she has written in this form at least the equivalent of twenty novels Many of her stories have been anthologized notably in the 1996 classic Selected Stories from which hundreds of pages had to be cut for reasons of length These embarrassment of riches are restored in this collection along with many other neglected treasures from her past Arranged in the order in which they appeared they shed light on people living through most of the second half of the twentieth century More important they show one of the greatest short story writers of our time at work delineating a series of worlds with dramatic flair dazzlingly precise language a wicked wit and a vivid understanding of the human condition The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole
