Resources in Education, 1994 Imagining Inclusive Society in Nineteenth-Century Novels Pam Morris, 2004-06-08 In Imagining Inclusive Society in Nineteenth Century Novels Pam Morris traces a dramatic transformation of British public consciousness that occurred between the Reform Acts of 1832 and 1867. This brief period saw a shift from a naturalized acceptance of social hierarchy to a general imagining of a modern mass culture. Central to this collective revisioning of social relations was the pressure to restyle political leadership in terms of popular legitimacy to develop a more inclusive mode of discourse within an increasingly heterogeneous public sphere and to find new ways of inscribing social distinctions and exclusions. Morris argues that in the transformed public sphere of mid nineteenth century Britain the urbane code of civility collapsed under the strain of the conflicting interests that constitute mass society. It was replaced by a code of sincerity often manipulative and always ideological in that its inclusiveness was based upon a formally egalitarian assumption of mutual interiorities. The irresistible movement toward mass politics shifted the location of power into the public domain. Increasingly national leaders sought to gain legitimacy by projecting a performance of charismatic sincerity as a flattering and insinuating mode of address to mass audiences. Yet by the latter decades of the century while the code of sincerity continued to dominate popular and political culture traditional political and intellectual elites were reinscribing social distinctions and exclusions. They did so both culturally by articulating sensibility as skepticism, irony, and aestheticism and scientifically by introducing evolutionist notions of sensibility and attaching these to a rigorous disciplinary code of bodily visibility. Through an intensive intertextual reading of six key novels: Brontë's Shirley, Thackeray's Henry Esmond, Dickens's Bleak House and Our Mutual Friend, Gaskell's North and South, and Eliot's Romola, and an array of Victorian periodicals and political essays, Morris analyzes just how actively novelists engaged in these social transformations. Drawing on a wide range of literary, cultural, and historical thinkers: Jürgen Habermas, Michel Foucault, Benedict Anderson, Mary Poovey, and Charles Tilly, Morris makes an original and highly sophisticated contribution to our understanding of the complex and always contested processes of imagining social inclusiveness. Watching Women Sarah Kornfield, 2025-04-21 The women on television series are spectacularly feminine. They are the most beautiful doctors, lawyers, detectives, scientists, queens, fashion writers, moms, Victorian ladies, and witches ever seen. Focusing on series that celebrate empowered women from mainstay crime dramas such as Bones (2005-2017) and The Rookie (Feds 2022-2023) to teen dramas with series such as Sex Education (2019-2023) and Charmed (2018-2022) to romance series such as Bridgerton (2020), this book analyzes the onscreen portrayals of femme femininity and feminism. Specifically, this book maps the televisual trends that objectify femininity and those that visualize femininity as subject working to demonstrate how televisual style constructs femininity through its onscreen portrayals.

Using Poetry Across the Curriculum Barbara Chatton, 2010-01-13 This comprehensive listing and discussion of poetic works supports the standards of all areas of the curriculum, helping librarians and teachers working with kindergarten through middle school students This second edition of Using Poetry Across the Curriculum Learning to Love Language offers a comprehensive list of poetry anthologies poetic picture books and poetic prose works in a wide variety of subject areas While it maintains the original edition's focus on ideas and resource lists for integration of poetry into all areas of the curriculum it is thoroughly revised to cover current issues in education and the wealth of new poetry books available The book is organized by subject areas commonly taught in elementary and middle schools and within these by the national standards in each area Numerous examples of poetry and poetic prose that can be used to help students understand and appreciate aspects of the standard are listed A sampling of units that arise from groups of works writing and performance ideas and links across the curriculum is also included While many teaching ideas and topics provide references to the standards they meet this title is unique in starting with those standards and making links across them

The Color of Love Elizabeth Hordge-Freeman, 2015-10-30 Winner Section on the Sociology of Emotions Outstanding Recent Contribution Book Award American Sociological Association 2016 Charles Horton Cooley Award for Recent Book Society for the Study of Symbolic Interaction 2017 Best Publication Award Section on Body and Embodiment American Sociological Association ASA 2018 The Color Of Love reveals the power of racial hierarchies to infiltrate our most intimate relationships Delving far deeper than previous sociologists have into the black Brazilian experience Elizabeth Hordge Freeman examines the relationship between racialization and the emotional life of a family Based on interviews and a sixteen month ethnography of ten working class Brazilian families this provocative work sheds light on how families simultaneously resist and reproduce racial hierarchies Examining race and gender Hordge Freeman illustrates the privileges of whiteness by revealing how those with blacker features often experience material and emotional hardships From parental ties to sibling interactions to extended family and romantic relationships the chapters chart new territory by revealing the connection between proximity to whiteness and the distribution of affection within families Hordge Freeman also explores how black Brazilian families particularly mothers rely on diverse strategies that reproduce negotiate and resist racism She frames efforts to modify racial features as sometimes reflecting internalized racism and at other times as responding to material and emotional considerations Contextualizing their strategies within broader narratives of the African diaspora she examines how Salvador s inhabitants perceive the history of the slave trade itself in a city that is referred to as the blackest in Brazil She argues that racial hierarchies may orchestrate family relationships in ways that reflect and reproduce racial inequality but black Brazilian families actively negotiate these hierarchies to assert their citizenship and humanity

Gender Linda Brannon, 2002 A balanced approach to the gender course providing research related to both men and women s issues and encouraging critical thinking about topics that are relevant to all people This book examines the topic of gender the behaviours and attitudes that relate but are not entirely congruent with biological sex Research and scholarship form the basis of this book providing the material for a critical review and an attempt at an overall picture of gender from a psychological perspective To accent the relevance of research findings in vivid detail Brannon supplements the review of scholarly research with personal narrative accounts of gender relevant aspects of people s lives as well as highlights from a cross cultural perspective of gender The personal narrative and diversity highlights help to balance the research based scholarship with the personal experience of gender "This Is a Great Book!" Larry Swartz, Shelley Stagg
