Zoological Mythology, Or The Legends of Animals by Angelo De Gubernatis, 1872 African American Literature and the Classicist Tradition T. Walters, 2007-10-29 This is a groundbreaking study exploring the significant relationship between western classical mythology and African American women's literature A comparative analysis of classical revisions by eighteenth and nineteenth century Black women writers Phillis Wheatley and Pauline Hopkins and twentieth century writers Gwendolyn Brooks Toni Morrison and Rita Dove reveals that Black women writers revise specific classical myths for artistic and political agency The study demonstrates that women rework myth to represent mythical stories from the Black female perspective and to counteract denigrating contemporary cultural and social myths that disempower and devalue Black womanhood Through their adaptations of classical myths about motherhood Wheatley Ray

Brooks Morrison and Dove uncover the shared experiences of mythic mothers and their contemporary African American counterparts thus offering a unique Black feminist perspective to classicism The women also use myth as a liberating space where they can speak the unspeakable and empower their subjects as well as themselves A Dictionary, Sanscrit and English: Translated, Amended and Enlarged, From an Original Compilation Prepared by Learned Natives Horace Hayman Wilson, 1819 The Creation of the Cowboy Hero Jeremy Agnew, 2014-12-16 As business interests have commercialized the American West and publishers and studios have created compelling imagery the expectations of readers and moviegoers have influenced perceptions of the cowboy as a hero This book describes the evolution of the cowboy hero as a mythic persona created by dime novels television and Hollywood Much of our concept of the cowboy comes to us from movies and the book's main focus is his changing image in cinema The development of the hero image and the fictional West is traced from early novels and films to the present along with shifting audience expectations and economic pressures
