The Headscarf Debates Anna C. Korteweg, Gökçe Yurdakul, 2014-06-18 The headscarf is an increasingly contentious symbol in countries across the world Those who don the headscarf in Germany are referred to as integration refusers In Turkey support by and for headscarf wearing women allowed a religious party to gain political power in a strictly secular state A niqab wearing Muslim woman was denied French citizenship for not conforming to national values And in the Netherlands Muslim women responded to the hatred of popular ultra right politicians with public appeals that mixed headscarves with in your face humor In a surprising way the headscarf a garment that conceals has also come to reveal the changing nature of what it means to belong to a particular nation All countries promote national narratives that turn historical diversities into imagined commonalities appealing to shared language religion history or political practice The Headscarf Debates explores how the headscarf has become a symbol used to reaffirm or transform these stories of belonging Anna Korteweg and Gökçe Yurdakul focus on France Germany and the Netherlands countries with significant Muslim immigrant populations and Turkey a secular Muslim state with a persistent legacy of cultural ambivalence The authors discuss recent cultural and political events and the debates they engender enlivening the issues with interviews with social activists and recreating the fervor which erupts near the core of each national identity when threats are perceived and changes are proposed The Headscarf Debates pays unique attention to how Muslim women speak for themselves how their actions and statements reverberate throughout national debates Ultimately The Headscarf Debates brilliantly illuminates how belonging and nationhood is imagined and reimagined in an increasingly global world greatly In India Israel and most Muslim countries questions of religious law are central to state regulation But it is religious education and organization in China and church property and public practice in Russia that bear the brunt This book explains these differences using the concept of differential burdening

Against International Relations Norms Charlotte Epstein, 2017-05-08 This volume uses the concept of norms to initiate a long overdue conversation between the constructivist and postcolonial scholarships on how to appraise the ordering processes of international politics Drawing together insights from a broad range of scholars it evaluates what it means to theorise international politics from a postcolonial perspective understood not as a unified body of thought or a new ism for IR but as a situated perspective offering ex centred post Eurocentric sites for practices of situated critique Through in depth engagements with the norms constructivist scholarship the contributors expose the theoretical epistemological and practical erasures that have been implicitly effected by the uncritical adoption of norms as the dominant lens for analysing the ideational dynamics of international politics They show how these are often the very erasures that sustained the workings of colonisation in the first place whose uneven power relations are thereby further sustained by the study of international politics The volume makes the case for shifting from a static analysis of norms to a dynamic and deeply historical understanding of the drawing of the initial line between the normal and the abnormal that served to exclude from focus the strange and the unfamiliar that were necessarily brought into play in the encounters between the West and the rest of the world A timely intervention it will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations international relations theory and postcolonial scholarship

Insight Turkey 2016 -Summer 2016 (Vol. 18, No.3) , The date of July 15 2016 is a watershed in the history of democracy as well as in the history of Turkey On the night of July 15 the world witnessed an exceptional and historic event The Turkish people heroically stood up against the brutal coup plotters they became an example for other peoples on how to defend your nation and on what is the real meaning of national self determination At the same time they gave a valuable lesson to the Western governments on how to support a democratically elected government But more than anything Turkish people proved to themselves that it is they who decide for themselves for their future After all isn't that what democracy is all about The memory of what happened on July 15 will never be erased from the minds and hearts of the people who were in Turkey that night We all lost someone on the night of July 15 a mother a father a child a friend or someone that we did not even know but we broke into tears when we saw them giving their life for this country

Onur, 2022-12-13 This book presents gendered readings of cultural manifestations that relate to the Ottoman era as a preferred past and a model for the future By means of claims of authenticity and the distribution of imaginaries of a homogenous desirable alternative to everyday concerns as well as invoking an imperial past at the national level In this mode of thinking shaped around a polarised worldview Republican ideals serve as a counter image to the promoted splendour and harmony of the Ottomans Yet the stereotypical gender roles inextricably linked with this neo Ottoman imaginary remain largely unacknowledged dissimulated in the construction of the desire of an idealised past Our adaption of a cultural studies perspective in this volume puts special emphasis on agency gender and authority It provides a shared ground for the interrogation through the contributions comprising this project of knowledge production about the past in light of what constitutes acceptable legitimacy in interpreting not only the canonical literature but history at large     Contemporary

Turkey in Conflict Tahir Abbas, 2016-12-05 New perspectives on ethnic relations Islam and neoliberalism have emerged in Turkey since the rise of the Justice and Development Party AKP in 2002 Placing the period within its historical and contemporary context Tahir Abbas argues that what it is to be ethnically religiously and culturally Turkish has been transformed He explores how issues of political trust social capital and intolerance towards minorities have characterised Turkey in the early years of the 21st century He shows how a radical neoliberal economic and conservative outlook has materialised leading to a clash over the religious political and cultural direction of Turkey These conflicts are defining the future of the nation     Political Islam and the Secular State in Turkey Evangelia Axiarlis, 2014-06-20 How safe is Turkey s liberal democracy The rise to power in 2002 of the right leaning Islamic Justice and Development Party ignited fears in the West that Turkey could no longer be relied upon to provide a buffer against the growth of Islamic fundamentalism in the Middle East Once hailed by the West as a model of secularism and moderation in the Muslim world Turkey is now seen to be under the influence of the creeping Islamisation of the JDP or AKP as it is known in Turkey Yet to what extent has this affected the lives of Turkish citizens Evangelia Axiarlis here explores the contribution of the JDP to civil liberties and basic freedoms long suppressed by secular and statist Kemalist ideology and how this has remained unexamined despite more than a decade in government In this the first detailed study of the policies and ideology of Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdo an s government the author examines the extent to which the JDP has worked to improve civil life in Turkey and critically addresses whether a government built on Islamic principles can champion political reform Exploring how Islam and democracy are neither monoliths nor mutually exclusive this is a timely contribution to the wider understanding of political Islam     Media Representations of the Cultural Other in Turkey Alparslan Nas, 2018-05-08 A fresh study that confirms the existence of multiple peripheries and its others in Turkish society and how dominant centrist media represented these differences in film and television discourse The use of Mardin s center periphery concept for the analyses of films ads and cartoons is brilliant This is a timely project as scholarly interest in Turkey has increased exponentially since 2013 This project is key to understanding the roots of a media politics in contemporary Turkey Murat Akser Ulster University UK

Alparslan Nas seminal work disrupts the notion of Turkish identities as fixed and stable He challenges the center secular modern Western peripheral conservative religious binary by critically examining how a cultural other is constructed and performed through the media in Turkey Nas analysis offers a much needed new lens and approach to understanding Turkey s complex social and political landscape Kathleen Cavanaugh National University of Ireland Galway Ireland This book is an important contribution to the scholarship on Turkey s cultural and political dynamics facilitating a discussion on the recent depictions of the cultural other in the media Turkey s modern history has been characterized by a particular tension between the social classes occupying the center of society while the bureaucratic elite are represented as modern secular and westernized the peripheral communities are portrayed as conservative religious or non Turkish This book facilitates a timely intervention to problematize this possible perception and to point at the complex dynamics of center periphery relations through the representation of the cultural other in film television advertisements and cartoons which have all been produced by different social classes Ultimately Media Representations of the Cultural Other in Turkey argues that the notions of the center and periphery do not signify stable positions rather each social agent imagines themselves at the center the cultural other at their periphery providing a crucial tool for the realization of their own identity

Religion, Nationalism and Foreign Policy Filiz Coban Oran, 2022-01-13 This book provides a critical discussion on how different discourses of nationalism in the Turkish media construct contested concepts of New Turkey s identity which has great importance for mapping modern Turkey s place in the world of nations Drawing on a Discourse Historical Approach the author analyses different discourses on Turkish national identity and foreign policy in Turkish media in the second term of the AKP government from 2007 to 2011 which was the period of consolidation of Muslim conservative nationalism in both internal and external relations By using three case studies including the Presidential elections in 2007 the launch of Kurdish Initiative in 2009 and the debate of axis shift in Western orientation of Turkish Foreign Policy in 2010 the book argues that not only has AKP s Muslim nationalism reconstructed new Turkish foreign policy but also new Turkish foreign policy discourse has reconstructed Turkish nation s Muslim identity and reinforced Muslim nationalism
