FCC ID Radio Frequency Interference Statement

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the FCC rules in that it does not produce, generate or emit RF energy. These limits are designed to provide maximum protection against harmful interference when the equipment is operated in accordance with the instructions. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy which if not properly used can interfere with the operation of nearby radio receiving equipment. It is the responsibility of the user to ensure that this equipment does not cause harmful interference to other users who are also using the same radio frequency spectrum.

Section 1

The changes to specifications not explicitly approved by the party responsible for compliance must not be used to alter the operation of the equipment.

Section 2

Product owners must not use, produce, modify, or use any other means to comply with the product rules.

Users are advised to read the instructions before use and to follow the instructions carefully.

FC Radio Frequency Interference
Statement

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and
- (2) This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.
