Fair And Competitive Critical Perspectives On Contemporary Nordic Schooling:

Fair and Competitive? Critical Perspectives on Contemporary Nordic Schooling Elina Lahelma, 2014-12-05 The Nordic countries have traditionally been regarded as archetypal representatives of social democratic welfare states But particularly since the 1990s the concept of universal welfare and education has increasingly been infused with neo liberal ideas and technologies even if the extent to which this has happened and its expressions vary from one Nordic country to the next Marketisation new public management and an emphasis on individualism and individual responsibility have profoundly affected education with increased focus on competition knowledge performance and assessment This is the context the educational landscape of this book Through ethnographic studies in varied educational institutions in Finland Norway and Sweden we ask how these political aspects are visible how they are negotiated and contested in the practices and everyday lives of students and teachers in schools and what are their implications for democratic influence Can the competitive school be at the same time fair The chapters are written from a critical ethnographic perspective using ethnographic data and analysis to address power relations in education with reference to the political aim of social inclusion and democracy The authors address diversities and differences and their interpretations are informed by an intersectional understanding of gender ethnicity and social class

Second International Handbook of Urban Education William T. Pink, George W. Noblit, 2017-01-06 This second handbook offers all new content in which readers will find a thoughtful and measured interrogation of significant contemporary thinking and practice in urban education Each chapter reflects contemporary cutting edge issues in urban education as defined by their local context One important theme that runs throughout this handbook is how urban is defined and under what conditions the marginalized are served by the schools they attend Schooling continues to hold a special place both as a means to achieve social mobility and as a mechanism for supporting the economy of nations This second handbook focuses on factors such as social stratification segmentation segregation racialization urbanization class formation and maintenance and patriarchy The central concern is to explore how equity plays out for those traditionally marginalized in urban schools in different locations around the globe Researchers will find an analysis framework that will make the current practice and outcomes of urban education and their alternatives more transparent and in turn this will lead to solutions that can help improve the life options for students historically underserved by urban schools

Structural Injustices in Swedish Education Dennis Beach, 2018-09-17 While Sweden is often viewed as a benchmark for equality within education this book examines this assumption in greater depth The author argues that Sweden's education system even prior to the global spread of neoliberalism in education meta policies and privatization was never particularly equal Instead what became apparent was a system that offered advantages to the upper social classes under a sheen of meritocracy and tolerable inequalities Combining ethnographic and meta ethnographic methodologies and analyses the author examines the phenomenon of structural injustice in the Swedish education system both vertically and diachronically across a period of intensive transformation and reform This revealing volume offers a mode of engagement that will be of value and interest to researchers and students of injustices within education as well as policy makers and practitioners

The State, Schooling and Identity Kari Kantasalmi, Gunilla Holm, 2016-12-22 This book offers insights into the relationship between nation state and education by problematizing and analyzing the assumed straightforwardness of the role of education and schooling Placing the issue in very contemporary contested nation state structures like Scotland Catalonia Ukraine and Belgium These conflict situations and contested power relations are in a way some of Europe's internal North-South struggles. In addition, the particular Nordic North-South example of the Saami with their status as indigenous people recognized in international law is viewed in terms of their educational struggle for better consideration of their cultural features in Saami land crossing the Nordic states. The book focuses on the Nordic countries often viewed as globally exemplary in their educational arrangements but casts deeper insight into Nordic education and points to problematic schooling issues in Northern Europe. This volume presents somewhat unexpected views on European educational arrangements with regard to the European growing diversity. Ethnographies of Education for Social Justice Begoña Vigo Arrazola, Jonathan Tummons, 2025-03-28

Social justice is a complex construct that invariably lacks unproblematic operationalization within social research. This book uses ethnographic research to situate a rich and complex model of social justice foregrounding the potential of the participant to generate emancipatory spaces. How can interactions between ethnographers and research participants influence the development of the research process, the practices being investigated, the perspectives of participants, and the contexts in which the research takes place? What are the possibilities for these approaches to ethnography of education to generate knowledge that is truly useful for educational change and social transformation for social justice? This monograph explains the creation of spaces where researchers and participants acknowledge the research process to generate possibilities for mutually transformative dialogues. The analysis of information during the research process provides knowledge that serves to stimulate and focus participants' awareness of what they know. It also enables them to develop that knowledge and allows them to have a point of reference for adjusting their own experiences. It broadens this lens of analysis beyond teachers to students, parents, community leaders, and anyone else who may claim an interest or concern in educational processes, practices, and praxis from a social justice point of view. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnography and Education. Education, Equity, Economy: Crafting a New Intersection George W. Noblit, William T. Pink, 2015-11-17

This volume will introduce the readers to an alternative nexus of education, equity, and economy, pointing to economies and educations that promote a less stratified and exploitive world, and as the chapter authors demonstrate, this view has a wide range of applications from technology, mathematics, to environmental catastrophes and indigenous cultures. This first volume in the new book series not only introduces the series itself but also several authors whose chapters that appear here presage the in-depth analysis that will be offered by their volumes in the series. Education is invoked repeatedly in the class warfare that pits the population against the elites as the investment that makes the difference in terms of both policy and individual commitment in the economy. The economy in this scenario is competitive, accumulative, exploitive, and stratifying, implying education should mirror this and prepare people to fit this economy. However, education has other historic goals of developing common cultures, national identities, and civic engagement that belie this form of economic determinism. This volume and the series will explore this new nexus of economy and education with equity. Youth on the Move Kristiina Brunila, Lisbeth Lundahl, 2020-02-03 The book addresses one of the most urgent social problems in many countries the uncertain school to work transitions of young people As a result a transition machinery has been created consisting of various education and training measures realised by e g teachers and youth workers The volume demonstrates that discourses related to youth transitions do not simply describe young adults but create them For example young people are expected to be active citizens who make themselves attractive to employers and those who fail in doing so may be labelled having psychological deficiencies When failing transitions resulting in lack of higher education or unemployment are treated as individual s problems rather than rising from structural factors the solutions are likewise individualized The book thus underlines the importance of analysing power relations reflected by gender health social class and ethnicity The articles of the book combine perspectives from young people policymakers teachers and youth workers in Iceland Finland Sweden and England
