Richard Rushton, Andrew Quick, 2024-04-30 Theatricality and the Arts presents a series of investigations of the notion of theatricality. Primarily theatricality concerns that which pertains to theatre but the term has always carried with it the potentially pejorative associations of exaggeration and fakery. The essays here question and contest such associations. The book is divided into four sections which together provide a comprehensive interrogation of theatricality. The four sections begin with multimedia where theatricality is examined in relation to mixed modes of media: internet art, painting, performance and digital display. A second section takes a philosophical approach to questions of theatricality. A third section looks at art broadly speaking but also at the historical contexts of art, photography and other media, literature, film, music. A final section features reflections on theatre and cinema often in conjunction. Considered as a whole, the collection contributes to debates on theatricality in various fields while also enabling a cross examination of approaches to the topic. Reading the Environment Dominika Oramus, 2025-09-04 Reading the Environment Olga Tokarczuk's Fiction aims at analysing the dynamics of reading fiction in the context of accelerating climate change. This volume proposes an environment oriented model of reading and applies it to a well defined corpus: all existing English translations of Olga Tokarczuk's fiction. These are Primeval and Other Times, House of Day, House of Night, Drive Your Plow Over the Bones of the Dead, Flights, The Books of Jacob and The Empusium. Removed from the immediate cultural context of a single author, these novels give a representative sample of contemporary literature read by Anglophone people of diverse national backgrounds who live in different localities but share one endangered planet, whether they realise it or not. The book charts five ways in which our reading protocols have shifted: the way of interconnectedness, the way of nature/cultures, the way of symposium, the way of Earth Island and the way of the beginning of the Anthropocene. This book is written for an academic audience: postgraduates, researchers and academics specializing in Environmental Humanities, Ecocriticism, World Literature, Post Modern Literature and Climate Fiction. Twentieth-century Italian Literature in English Translation

Robin Healey, 1998-01-01 This bibliography lists English language translations of twentieth century Italian literature published chiefly in book form between 1929 and 1997 encompassing fiction, poetry, plays, screenplays, librettos, journals and diaries and correspondence. The English Catalogue of Books Published from January, 1835, to January, 1863, 1864 Flight, 1912 Reading Iraqi Women's Novels in English Translation Ruth Abou Rached, 2020-10-28 By exploring how translation has shaped the literary contexts of six Iraqi woman writers, this book offers new insights into their translation pathways as part of their stories, politics of meaning making. The writers in focus are Samira Al Mana, Daizy Al Amir, Inaam Kachachi, Betool Khedairi, Alia Mamdouh and Hadiya Hussein whose novels include themes of exile, war, occupation, class, rurality and storytelling as cultural survival. Using perspectives of feminist translation to examine how Iraqi women's story making has been mediated in English translation across differing times and locations, this book is the first to explore how Iraqi women's literature calls for new theoretical engagements and why this literature often interrogates and diversifies many literary theories, geopolitical scope. This book will be of great interest for researchers in Arabic literature women's literature translation studies and women and gender studies Noémie's novel Garamvölgyi Noémi, 2025-07-07 What makes a good autobiographical novel Certainly if it's twisty interesting colourful but is that enough Noémi's novel undoubtedly meets all these criteria but it goes further than that much deeper content is revealed to the reader unfolding from the events and situations described which are emotionally charged for the author The book is a combination of 35 years of teaching and 58 years of life experience and is not without humour or everyday human wisdom making it a book that can be enjoyed by almost all ages The Novel After Theory Judith

Ryan, 2014-01-01 Novels began to incorporate literary theory in unexpected ways in the late twentieth century Through allusion parody or implicit critique theory formed an additional strand in fiction that raised questions about the nature of authorship and the practice of writing Studying this phenomenon provides fresh insight into the recent development of the novel and the persistence of modern theory beyond the period of its greatest success In this book Judith Ryan opens these questions to a range of readers drawing them into debates over the value of theory Ryan investigates what prompted fiction writers to incorporate and respond to theory nearly thirty years ago Designed for readers unfamiliar with the complexities of theory Ryan's book introduces the discipline's major trends and controversies and notes the salient ideas of a carefully selected set of individual thinkers Ryan follows novelists' adaptation to and engagement with arguments drawn from theory as they translate abstract ideas into language structure and fictional strategy At the core of her book is a fascinating microstudy of French poststructuralism in its dialogue with narrative fiction Investigating theories of textuality psychology and society in the work of Don DeLillo Thomas Pynchon J M Coetzee Margaret Atwood W G Sebald and Umberto Eco as well as Monika Maron Alain Robbe-Grillet Marguerite Duras Marilynne Robinson David Foster Wallace and Christa Wolf Ryan identifies subtle negotiations between author and theory and the richness this dynamic adds to texts Resetting the way we think and learn about literature her book reads current literary theory while uniquely tracing its shaping of a genre Print Culture and the First Yoruba Novel Isaac Babalola Thomas, 2012-05-25 This volume presents an edition and translation of I B
