Speech, Language, and Hearing Programs in Schools Eileen

Gravani, Jacqueline Meyer, 2007 Speech Language pathologists have long been involved in providing services to children with communication disorders in the schools. However, a number of recent events have altered the practice environment, including changes in national and state legislation, shifting demographics, an increase in the severity of disorders encountered, advances in technology, and a move toward curriculum-based assessment. The new edition of Speech Language and Hearing Programs in Schools: A Guide for Students and Practitioners reflects these events. The new editors and contributors to the first edition have substantially updated and revised all chapters and have added new material on the reauthorization of IDEA, literacy acquisition, pediatric dysphagia, children from culturally diverse backgrounds who are increasingly represented in speech language pathology caseloads, and much more. The book also includes chapter objectives, case studies, and Internet resources and is supplemented by an instructor's manual. Journal of American Indian Education, 1999

Speech-language Pathology Services in the Schools Joyce S. Taylor, 1992 The Handbook for Evidence-based Practice in Communication Disorders Christine A. Dollaghan, 2007 Written for speech language pathologists, this book demonstrates how to apply current best evidence in making critical decisions about the care of individual patients, be it screening, diagnosis, or treatment of communication disorders. The Education Index, 1984
