Geography Controlled Test March 2015

Shannon O'Lear, Simon Dalby

Geography Controlled Test March 2015:

Advances in the Evolutionary Ecology of Termites Alberto Arab, Solange Del Carmen Issa Ponce, Daniel Aguilera-Olivares, 2023-08-16 Termites are eusocial insects that live in colonies composed of hundreds to millions of individuals. Their colonies are mainly organized into reproductive and non-reproductive castes which have specific tasks such as nest construction, foraging, reproduction, brood care, and colony defense. The evolution of the symbiotic association between termites and microorganisms allows them to decompose ingested lignocellulose from plant substrates such as wood, including herbivore dung and soil humus, making them important insect decomposers that play a crucial role in ecosystem functioning by contributing to litter decomposition, soil formation, and nutrient cycling. On the other hand, termites have recently been classified as eusocial cockroaches, which have gained increasing attention in evolutionary studies to understand the transition to eusociality from subsocial wood roaches. This current growing interest in termite research calls for a collection dedicated to these fascinating insects.

Optimize Your School Lyle Lee Jenkins, 2015-05-06 Lead the change that you want to see in your school. Is your school or district heading in the right direction? In this essential guide for leaders, Lee Jenkins shows how to unite and energize your team as never before while helping your students to love learning and crave achievement. A trusted advisor to numerous districts, Jenkins knows how to successfully transform school culture for the long term. Beginning with an introduction from scholar Michael Fullan, each chapter presents compelling insights and strategies for leaders addressing how to evolve your leadership style to guide, empower, and serve. Apply the principles of continuous strategic improvement as an antidote to win-lose approaches to school accountability. Develop a healthy, positive culture of achievement by deeply engaging your students in their own progress and success. Turn to this resource and prepare to lead positive change from the classroom to the staff room and beyond. This book creates a whole picture approach to school improvement while shunning the current top-down model in favor of a school-led plan. The approach not only increases school performances but values the school-level leadership and instructional faculty.

Amanda Mayeaux, Career Management Specialist, Iberville Parish Schools. If your district is ready to move from arbitrary to observable, from fractured to focused, and from silos to systems, you've found the book that can move entire organizations from a goal mindset to a growth mindset. Lee Jenkins provides common-sense strategies that impact the efficiency and effectiveness of our classrooms with a clear focus on student growth. In an educational era saturated with the latest remedy for what ails us, Lee provides a refreshing cure by offering simple solutions for lasting change.

Reframing Climate Change Shannon O'Lear, Simon Dalby, 2015-07-24 Change the system, not the climate is a common slogan of climate change activists. Yet when this idea comes into the academic and policy realm, it is easy to see how climate change discourse frequently asks the wrong questions. Reframing Climate Change encourages social scientists, policy makers, and graduate students to critically consider how climate change is framed in scientific, social, and political spheres It proposes ecological geopolitics as a framework for understanding the extent to which climate change is a meaningful analytical focus as well as the ways in which it can be detrimental detracting attention from more productive lines of thought research and action The volume draws from multiple perspectives and disciplines to cover a broad scope of climate change Chapter topics range from climate science and security to climate justice and literacy Although these familiar concepts are widely used by scholars and policy makers they are discussed here as frequently problematic when used as lenses through which to study climate change Beyond merely reviewing current trends within these different approaches to climate change the collection offers a thoughtful assessment of these approaches with an eye towards an overarching reconsideration of the current understanding of our relationship to climate change Reframing Climate Change is an essential resource for students policy makers and anyone interested in understanding more about this important topic Who decides what the priorities are Who benefits from these priorities and what kinds of systems or actions are justified or hindered The key contribution of the book is the outlining of ecological geopolitics as a different way of understanding human environment relationships including and beyond climate change issues

Interdisciplinary Teaching About Earth and the Environment for a Sustainable Future David C. Gosselin, Anne E. Egger, J. John Taber, 2018-12-13

Interdisciplinary Teaching about the Earth and Environment for a Sustainable Future presents the outcomes of the InTeGrate project a community effort funded by the National Science Foundation to improve Earth literacy and build a workforce prepared to tackle environmental and resource issues The InTeGrate community is built around the shared goal of supporting interdisciplinary learning about Earth across the undergraduate curriculum focusing on the grand challenges facing society and the important role that the geosciences play in addressing these grand challenges The chapters in this book explicitly illustrate the intimate relationship between geoscience and sustainability that is often opaque to students The authors of these chapters are faculty members administrators program directors and researchers from institutions across the country who have collectively envisioned implemented and evaluated effective change in their classrooms programs institutions and beyond This book provides guidance to anyone interested in implementing change on scales ranging from a single course to an entire program by infusing sustainability across the curriculum broadening access to Earth and environmental sciences and assessing the impacts of those changes

The Northern Question Tom Hazeldine, 2021-09-21 A history of the UK's regional inequalities and why they matter Differences between England's North and South continue to shape national politics from attitudes to Brexit and the electoral collapse of Labour's Red Wall to Whitehall's experimentation with regional pandemic lockdowns Why is this fault line such a persistent feature of the English landscape The Northern Question is a history of England seen in the unfamiliar light of a northern perspective While London is the capital and the centre for trade and finance the proclaimed leader of the nation northern England has always seemed like a different country In the nineteenth century its industrializing society appeared set to bring a political revolution down upon Westminster and the City Tom Hazeldine recounts how subsequent governments put finance before manufacturing London ahead of the regions and austerity before reconstruction

Made Free and Thrown Open to the Public Bernadette A. Lear, 2021-09-21 Made Free and Thrown Open to the Public charts the history of public libraries and librarianship in Pennsylvania Based on archival research at more than fifty libraries and historical societies it describes a long progression from private subscription based associations to publicly funded institutions highlighting the dramatic period during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries when libraries were thrown open to women children and the poor Made Free explains how Pennsylvania's physical and cultural geography legal codes and other unique features influenced the spread and development of libraries across the state It also highlights Pennsylvania libraries many contributions to the social fabric especially during World War I the Great Depression and World War II Most importantly of all Made Free convincingly argues that Pennsylvania libraries have made their greatest strides when community activists and librarians supported with state and local resources have worked collaboratively

The Experience and Fear of Violence in the Public Realm Charlotte Fabiansson, 2023-05-12 This book explores violent and discriminatory values and beliefs and their interconnectedness between societal echelons Violence has a foundation and a context It comes from somewhere and is directed at someone or something and it has an ambience established through generations of social cultural political financial and religious strategies It fashions nation states hegemonic ideology and frames individual behaviours and attitudes thus creating a milieu that enables the normalisation of violence The focus is on violence infused behaviours and actions in the public realm a multifunctional environment for social and cultural activities as well as a workplace entertainment and transport hub It is a public setting sometimes demanding onerous deftness of individuals to stay safe Attitudes values and beliefs around violence harassment and discrimination in the public realm frequently occur openly without anyone noticing that a crime has been committed including by close bystanders An audience steeped in societal hegemonic social and cultural patriarchal ideology might be oblivious to harassing or discriminative behaviours and attitudes against females minority genders and ethnic minority groups The habitual nature and normalisation of these invisible crimes make them easy to dismiss Violence materialises on all societal levels the hegemonic structural macro level consisting of the society's dominating political financial social cultural and religious leaders educational and community institutions meso level and the individual agency micro level hence the nationstate's populace Societal order is underpinned by structural systemic and symbolic violence all integrated into contemporary society's cultural and social fabric thus inconspicuous social norms as ingrained through internalisation The book is written from a sociological perspective and within the risk society discourse where the risk of violence in the public domain is omnipresent Discourses of Arendt Bauman Bourdieu Marx Foucault Galtung and Beck and present day analysis underpin the discussions The agency and political leadership research emphatically show that violence and discrimination are normalised and ingrained in the contemporary milieu
