HOW TO CHECK YOUR SYSTEM

The next important finding is that health literacy is a dimension of the individual's cognitive skills ("reading/writing/numeracy") and the "functional system" (the system is needed to access a service). Health literacy is conceptualized by the WHO as the ability to obtain, understand and use health information and services needed to make health decisions. The reading system needs have to be interpreted together with the social system, which has the social context for the use of literacy in the health situation.
