Library at Oxford Bodleian Library,1922 Christ, Power and Mammon Scott Thomas Prather,2013-08-15 This book examines the role of the New Testament concept of the principalities and powers in the thought of Karl Barth and John Howard Yoder showing how this biblical concept of power is central to the fundamental theological convictions of each thinker Prather offers a scholarly account of the underexplored theological and ethical import of a major biblical theme and the book addresses questions and concerns from a wide range of academic and lay theological interest He brings Barth and Yoder into dialogue here and examines the three crucial areas the confessional distinction of church and world the demonization of political power and the intrinsic relation between the political and economic powers While other theologians have rightly identified a christocentric connection between the thought of Barth and Yoder no attempt has been made to bring them together through the sustained analysis of a single doctrinal or ethical issue this book does just that A

The Unassumed Is the Unhealed Kevin Chiarot,2013-09-24 This work addresses a pivotal and controversial area lying at the heart of T F Torrance s Christology Namely that Jesus Christ assumed fallen and sinful humanity and living out a sinless life from within our alienated state healed our human nature This is a claim that is conceptually basic to Torrance s integration of incarnation and atonement and thus to his soteriology as a whole It s pervasive nature and its significance within the overall structure of Torrance s thought is thoroughly and sympathetically set forth Christ s assumption of sinful flesh is seen to lie underneath a number of disputed areas in Torrance s thought such as the role or lack thereof of human responsibility and the question of universalism This work not only illuminates but rigorously examines the claim that the unassumed is the unhealed A Theological Assessment of Reconciliation for Missiology in the Korean Context Hyo Seok Lim,2021-07-01 Any Christian who lives in such a broken world may ask God what their role would be as the person who is reconciled with God and about the implications of the vertical dimension of reconciliation Many would agree that the vertical and horizontal dimensions of reconciliation should not be separated. It is however still necessary to examine further. For instance, what does the inseparableness of the two dimensions actually mean in theory and practice? How does the vertical dimension of reconciliation become the source and foundation of the horizontal dimension? How should the church maintain its theology of reconciliation which includes both dimensions? All these questions point to an underlying question: what is the relationship between the vertical and horizontal dimensions of reconciliation? This book explores this question interacting with the four thinkers and practitioners of reconciliation: Karl Barth, Miroslav Volf, Son Yang Won, and Desmond Tutu, and assessing the theology of a leading theologian in the discourse of mission as reconciliation, Robert Schreiter. Based on the discussions, it presents a proposal for a more wholesome and robust understanding of reconciliation for the discourse in mission studies which can be applied to any broken context including the Korean peninsula. Engineering News, 1907
