The Making of Medieval Central Europe Martin Wihoda, 2024-08-26 Although the distant origins of medieval Central Europe have enjoyed constant interest among historians only marginal attention has been paid to the power and political prerequisites for the first Westernization i e the gradual adoption of the values norms and patterns of behavior of the Latin West by the communities gentes around the eastern edge of the Carolingian and subsequently Holy Roman Empires Such a gap in knowledge long overlooked is now being filled by The Making of Medieval Central Europe Power and Political Prerequisites for the First Westernization 791-1122 While respecting the state of research and based on an original analysis of the sources this book offers an informed reflection of a complex dialogue that was initiated after the collapse of the Avar Khaganate at the end of the 8th century and that by the beginning of the 12th century gave rise to a Central Europe that was Westernized i.e. turned toward the West yet in many ways distinctive Another and no less important added value of this book is the author's conscious effort to overcome the narrow interpretive matrices defined by the national interests of the time

Exodus 1-15 Helmut Utzschneider, Wolfgang Oswald, 2014-11-20 This commentary interprets the first part of the book of Exodus through 15:21 It features two approaches On the one hand the commentary interprets the final form of the traditional Hebrew text synchronically by means of form criticism and modern literary methods On the other hand it diachronically reconstructs the predecessors of the final form from its origins in an exodus composition that opposes political domination to the text's final form as a dramatic narrative about the transfer of sovereignty from the Pharaoh to the God of Israel Concluding syntheses examine the relationship between these two interpretive approaches while adding reflections on traditional and contemporary concerns
