While a Christian understanding of divine judgement tends to focus on the afterlife the Hebrew Bible is far more concerned with divine retribution as something experienced in this life Yet if the same God enacts both should there not be significant continuity between biblical accounts of divine retribution whether experienced in this world or the hereafter In this study Dr Angukali Rotokha provides an overview of Old Testament and Second Temple sources that express conceptions of post mortem judgement Alongside these passages she examines the perspective on judgement presented in Deuteronomy with its orientation towards divine retribution as experienced on this side of death She explores Deuteronomy's varying emphases on the impersonal anthropocentric theocentric and limited aspects of divine retribution as well as the relevance of these conceptions to the descriptions of post mortem judgement found in Isaiah Daniel 1 Enoch and 2 Maccabees In clarifying points of continuity and discontinuity between earthly and post mortem divine retribution she provides a foundation for deeper insight into the Judeo
