Florida Virtual School Answers Book:

Curriculum Leadership Development Carol A. Mullen, 2012-11-12 Curriculum Leadership Development is an up to date user friendly textbook offering unique approaches to help readers understand the complexity of curriculum leadership. It is grounded in current and relevant theory, research, legislation, and application in the closely related areas of curriculum leadership development and scholarship. The text solidifies the concepts of curriculum and leadership in experiential learning contexts and promotes democratic action and critical thinking. Author Carol A. Mullen uses a descriptive qualitative approach that integrates case study, data analysis, personal reflection, and lessons learned. Among the most important elements of the book are the inclusion of the voice and curricular experiences of the professional student who is a seasoned teacher or beginning administrator, detailed illustrations of practitioners' experiences as curriculum makers and action researchers, an articulation of the links among curriculum development, constructivist curricula, and mentoring scaffolds, and practical exercises to accompany case studies. Graduate and advanced undergraduate students in education will find this textbook of value in their coursework, as will curriculum professionals who teach practicing teachers. A Classroom of One Gene I. Maeroff, 2003-02-08 A well known journalist takes a hard look at distance education. Krugman's Macroeconomics for AP Margaret Ray, David A. Assessing Reference and User Services in a Digital Age Eric Novotny, 2013-05-13 Effectively assess whether any library is making good use of the reference user service resources available today. Libraries need to develop standards by which they can assess their individual performances in a larger context and Assessing Reference and User Services in a Digital Age makes significant contributions to this ongoing discussion. The book addresses its subject matter via approaches ranging from case studies of individual libraries to general discussions of best practices. The contributors explore the impact of the Internet on the field of evaluation, focusing on electronic reference and instruction. They highlight current issues, present research results, and offer expert advice on how to assess online reference and instruction. All chapters are well referenced to facilitate further study, and many include tables, appendixes, checklists, and other helpful features that make difficult information easy to access and understand. The chapters that make up Assessing Reference and User Services in a Digital Age are as rich and varied as the backgrounds of their authors. Experienced researchers provide the results of studies conducted to determine the nature and effectiveness of the online reference services offered by various libraries. Practitioners and administrators from different institutional settings, academic libraries, public libraries, consortiums, etc., provide their perspectives on the issues facing librarians who need to assess the electronic services they provide. In this important new book, Andrew Briedenbach shows how a chat service can be implemented and suggests which data should be collected for it. Buff Hirko examines VET, the Virtual Evaluation Toolkit. Ruth Vondracek shares the experiences of a university library as it entered a statewide e reference consortium and offers advice and issues to consider before entering such a
