Physiology and Pathology of Membrane Digestion A. M. Ugolev,2012-12-06 The physiology and pathology of membrane contact or surface digestion of the three main components of the food of animals and man is a rapidly developing field and there is little doubt that newer observations will become available as time progresses As the discoverer of the phenomenon of membrane digestion Professor Ugolev is well aware of the relative infancy of this subject and in presenting the book at this time his primary purpose was to acquaint the reader with the experimental basis for the observed phenomenon and to stimulate interest in the further work required for the elucidation of details and for proper orientation Translations as means of communication of ideas and experimental facts are of obvious importance and they require no apologies or explanations particularly to those who are engaged in scientific endeavors In making this book available to those who find the Russian language an insurmountable barrier our main efforts were directed toward preserving the author's meaning spirit and intent as accurately as possible It is hoped that this objective has been attained and that the minor unintentional errors will be forgiven by the reader and by the author The translator wishes to express to Professor Ugolev whom he met in Leningrad in 1965 his appreciation for the trust in the ability of the translator to make Professor Ugolev's labor of love the present book available in the English language

The New Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1974 William Hunter's World Nick Pearce, 2017-07-05 Despite William Hunter's stature as one of the most important collectors and men of science of the eighteenth century and the fact that his collection is the foundation of Scotland's oldest public museum The Hunterian until now there has been no comprehensive examination in a single volume of all his collections in their diversity This volume restores Hunter to a rightful position of prominence among the medical men whose research and amassing of specimens transformed our understanding of the natural world and man's position within it This volume comprises essays by international specialists and are as diverse as Hunter's collections themselves dealing as they do with material that ranges from medical and scientific specimens to painting prints books and manuscripts The first sections focus upon Hunter's own collection and his response to it while the final section contextualises Hunter within the wider sphere A special feature of the volume is the inclusion of references to the Hunterian's web pages and on line databases These enable searches for items from Hunter's collections both from his museum and library Locating Hunter's collecting within the broader context of his age and environment this book provides an original approach to a man and collection whose importance has yet to be comprehensively assessed
