Making the Medieval Relevant Chris Jones,Conor Kostick,Klaus Oschema,2019-12-02 When scholars discuss the medieval past the temptation is to become immersed there to deepen our appreciation of the nuances of the medieval sources through debate about their meaning But the past informs the present in a myriad of ways and medievalists can and should use their research to address the concerns and interests of contemporary society This volume presents a number of carefully commissioned essays that demonstrate the fertility and originality of recent work in Medieval Studies Above all they have been selected for relevance Most contributors are in the earlier stages of their careers and their approaches clearly reflect how interdisciplinary methodologies applied to Medieval Studies have potential repercussions and value far beyond the boundaries of the Middles Ages These chapters are powerful demonstrations of the value of medieval research to our own times both in terms of providing answers to some of the specific questions facing humanity today and in terms of much broader considerations Taken together the research presented here also provides readers with confidence in the fact that Medieval Studies cannot be neglected without a great loss to the understanding of what it means to be human

Ethnic Identity, Memory, and Use of the Past in Italy's 'Dark Ages' Luigi Andrea

Berto,2022-06-01 This volume examines the Italian peninsula in the early Middle Ages by focusing on research fields such as ethnic identity memory and use of the past Particular attention is devoted to the way some authors were influenced by their own present in their reconstruction of the past The political and cultural fragmentation of Italy during the early Middle Ages created by the Lombards invasion of a part of the Peninsula in the late sixth century and early seventh century Charlemagne's conquest of a part of the Lombard Kingdom in 774 and by the weakening of the Byzantine Empire in the eighth and ninth centuries make this part of Europe a special area for exploring continuities and discontinuities between the Roman and the post Roman periods in Western Europe Across the volume Berto examines the problems that the features of primary sources and their scarcity pose to their interpretations Ethnic Identity Memory and Use of the Past in Italy's Dark Ages is the ideal resource for upper level undergraduates postgraduates and scholars interested in the relationship between Italy and Europe during the Middle Ages Changing Times, 1066-1500

Middle Ages Peter Godman,2009-06-04 The autobiographical and confessional writings of Abelard Heloise and the Archpoet were concerned with religious authenticity spiritual sincerity and their opposite fictio a composite of hypocrisy and dissimulation lying and irony How and why moral identity could be feigned or falsified were seen as issues of primary importance and Peter Godman here restores them to the prominence they once occupied in twelfth century thought This book is an account of the relationship between ethics and literature in the work of the most famous authors of the Latin Middle Ages Combining conceptual analysis with close attention to style and form it offers a major contribution to the history of the medieval conscience Parks in Medieval England S. A. Miles,2009-07-16 Parks were prominent and indeed controversial features of the medieval countryside but they have been unevenly studied and remain only partly understood Stephen Miles provides the first full length study of the subject examining parks across the country and throughout the Middle Ages in their full social economic jurisdictional and landscape context The first half of the book investigates the purpose of these royal and aristocratic reserves which have been variously claimed as hunting grounds economic assets landscape settings for residences and status symbols An emphasis on the aristocratic passion for the chase as the key motivation for park making provides an important challenge to more recent views and allows for a deeper appreciation of the connection between park making and the expression of power and lordship The second part of the volume examines the impact of park creation on wider society from the king and aristocracy to peasants and townsmen Instead of the traditional emphasis on the importance of royal regulation greater attention is paid to the effects of lordly park making on other members of the landed elite and ordinary people These widespread enclosures interfered with customary uses of woodland and waste hunting practices roads and farming not surprisingly they could become a focus for aristocratic feud popular protest and furtive resistance Combining historical archaeological and landscape evidence this ground breaking work provides fresh insight into contemporary values and how they helped to shape the medieval landscape

Philosophical Neuroethics: A Personalist Approach. Volume 1 James Beauregard, 2019-08-02 Neuroethics is a theoretical and practical discipline that considers the many ethical issues that arise in neuroscience From its inception the field has sought to develop an ethical vision from within the confines of science a task that is both misguided and in the end impossible Providing a solid theoretical foundation for neuroethics means looking to other sources most specifically to philosophy In this groundbreaking work the author examines the current underpinnings of neuroethical thinking and finds them inadequate to the task of neuroethics to think ethically about persons technology and society Grounded in the physicalist and deterministic presuppositions of contemporary science and drawing on utilitarian thought neuroethics as currently conceived lacks the ability to develop a robust and adequate notion of persons and of ethics Philosophical Neuroethics examines the historical reasons for this state of affairs for the purpose of proposing a more viable alternative drawing on the tradition of personalism for a more adequate metaphysical epistemological anthropological and ethical vision of the human person and of ethics that can serve as a solid foundation for the theory and practice of neuroethical decision making as it touches on the neurologic and psychiatric care of individuals our philosophy of technology and the social implications of neuroscience that touch on public policy neurotechnology the justice system and the military Drawing on the personalist philosophical tradition that emerged in the twentieth century in the works of Mounier Maritain Guardini Wojtyla and the Modern Ontological Personalism of Juan Manuel Burgos Philosophical Neuroethics brings to light the limitations of contemporary neuroethical thinking and sets forth a comprehensive vision of the human person capable of interacting with the contemporary questions raised by neuroscience and technology

Dialog Theory for Critical Argumentation Douglas N. Walton, 2007-09-19 Because of the need to devise systems for electronic communication on the internet multi agent computing is moving to a model of communication as a structured conversation between rational agents For example in multi agent systems an electronic agent searches around the internet and collects certain kinds of information by asking questions to other agents Such agents also reason with each other when they engage in negotiation and persuasion It is shown in this book that critical argumentation is best represented in this framework by the model of reasoned argument called a dialog in which two or more parties engage in a polite and orderly exchange with each other according to rules governed by conversation policies In such dialog argumentation the two parties reason together by taking turns asking questions offering replies and offering reasons to support a claim They try to settle their disagreements by an orderly conversational exchange that is partly adversarial and partly collaborative
