Handbook of Research on Mobile Devices and Applications in Higher Education Settings Briz-Ponce, Laura, Juanes-Méndez, Juan Antonio, García-Peñalvo, Francisco José, 2016-07-13 Mobile phones have become an integral part of society as their convenience has helped democratize and revolutionize communication and the marketplace of ideas. Because of their ubiquity in higher education undergraduate classrooms have begun to utilize smartphones and tablets as tools for learning. The Handbook of Research on Mobile Devices and Applications in Higher Education Settings explores and fosters new perspectives on the use of mobile applications in a classroom context. This timely publication will demonstrate the challenges that universities face when introducing new technologies to students and instructors as well as the rewards of doing so in a thoughtful manner. This book is meant to present the latest research and become a source of inspiration for educators, administrators, researchers, app developers, and students of education and technology. HC 401 - The Role of Regional Schools Commissioners Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. European Scrutiny Committee, 2016

Global application of the One Village One Product Movement concept Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2022-12-13 In the context of FAO's Global Action GA on Green Development of Special Agro Products SAPs themed as One Country One Priority Product OCOP given that OCOP shares similar philosophy as the One Village One Product OVOP movement and taking advantages of the rich experiences of OVOP and advances made by Asian countries especially Japan International Cooperation Agency JICA's support in many OVOP projects around the world this publication presents an overview of the OVOP movement globally and showcases how OVOP can boost rural economies and increase food security nutrition through the development of local products hence contributing to SDG 1, 2 and 10. Chapter I explains what OVOP is and how it has been disseminated outside Japan. Chapter II provides overview of JICA's support for OVOP. In Chapter III JICA's OVOP projects are analyzed in terms of their objectives, alignment to strategic policy framework, target population, products, services, governance structure and monitoring and evaluation. Chapter IV reviews the process and interventions taken in OVOP projects and identifies good practices. Chapter V lists success factors which are extracted from OVOP projects. FAO's One Country One Priority Product OCOP projects are encouraged to refer to them in their planning and implementation phases. Lastly in Chapter VII several implications and recommendations for OCOP are drawn from OVOP experiences of JICA.

Sealants in Construction Jerome Klosowski, Andreas T. Wolf, 2016-01-05 Revised Bestseller Offers Broad Based Knowledge to a Wide Range of Technical Professionals The definitive guide to sealing operations in construction this latest edition of Sealants in Construction focuses on the most current technology, methods, applications and standards relevant to sealant performance. Providing guided direction on how to choose Postharvest Extension and Capacity Building for the Developing World Majeed Mohammed, Vijay Yadav Tokala, 2018-12-07 It is estimated that around 1.3 billion tons per year of food produced for human consumption which is about one third of all food produced is either lost or wasted globally.

Reduction of the postharvest losses is being considered as one of the sustainable ways to ensure world food security. Postharvest Extension and Capacity Building for the Developing World provides information on postharvest extension outreach programs, capacity building, and practical methodologies for postharvest extension professionals and food science teachers, food processing trainers, and outreach specialists who work in the field. The book provides information on training of postharvest trainers, food loss assessment methods, capacity building in universities and agro industry, distance education methods, models for cost effective postharvest food processing, extension work success stories, and lessons learned from past projects and programs. The book is divided into four sections. Section I explains postharvest loss assessments methods. Section II is on capacity building, and Sections III and IV focus on training and postharvest extension models. Food loss assessment methodologies are highlighted from several high profile institutions, and it is envisioned that researchers and postharvest extension personnel will benefit from the development and field testing of a hybrid methodology incorporating the strengths and utilizing the best practices from each of the methodologies in current use. Chapters cover postharvest extension work and capacity building in a wide range of regions.

Biobased Polyols for Industrial Polymers Deny Kyriacos, 2020-03-17
The replacement of polyols synthesized from petrochemical by polyols originating from natural products, notably from vegetable oils and animal fats, has been the subject of research projects for a number of decades. Very recently, however, the polymers industry has intensified its efforts to include the green products such as biobased polyols in applications already available in the market. Examples of such applications include polyurethane foams, elastomers, and epoxides. This book describes the extraction of the natural constituents of several fruits and plants, as well as their chemical conversion to polyols. In addition to the chemistry involved in the process, particular emphasis is attributed to their applications.

Crash Course in Disaster Preparedness Carmen Cowick, 2018-10-04
Every library needs to have a disaster management plan in place before disaster strikes. This short but thorough manual makes preparing for disaster less intimidating. All library staff, from library volunteers to library directors and branch managers, have a role to play in preparing for and recovering from disaster. Written by an expert in preservation services, Crash Course in Disaster Preparedness contains all of the information library professionals need to prepare for an emergency should one arise. Carmen Cowick identifies common terminology, teaches readers how to conduct risk assessment, how to write a disaster plan, and how to design emergency procedures, and introduces readers to the basic principles of salvaging. Throughout, Cowick shows readers how to prioritize library collections during a fire, flood, power outage, and other natural and human caused disasters, so as to maximize preservation of library materials.
