COVID-19 and Perinatology Daniele De Luca,Alexandra Benachi,2023-06-21 COVID19 pandemics has had profound consequences on public health and has represented a challenge for several medical specialties Despite this was underestimated at the beginning of the outbreak COVID19 is actually impacting on women and children health as well The consequences in this field are multifaceted and complex as they span from the occurrence of COVID19 in pregnant patients to the possibility of SARS CoV 2 mother to child transmission the occurrence of neonatal COVID and pediatric sequelae COVID19 and the related public health measures may also have important consequences on psychological well being and organization of perinatal care as well as they raise relevant ethical issues All these aspects were at risk to be forgotten within the many others highlighted by the pandemics but are important both for individual care and also from a political point of view and the organization of care There is a large demand of high quality education information and training in this field and we answered that by organising the COVID19 in Pregnancy and Childhood Days this book represents the hard legacy of this event with the contribution of key opinion leaders in all the aforementioned specialties The book is answering a clear need and is directed to 1 obstetricians 2 neonatologists 3 pediatricians 3 public health specialists 4 adult critical care physicians 5 infectious disease specialists 5 psychologists Last but not least the informations resumed in the book are going to be useful for healthcare authorities to program perinatal care and improve it The book will also serve as textbook for post graduate courses and academic review resuming the state of the art knowledge on this area Thus it will be cited and used by researchers in the field this is not a secondary characteristics as it may be quite difficult to find relevant informations in this infodemic era using the usual channels and databases Balancing Act: Countering Digital Disinformation While Respecting Freedom of Expression Broadband Commission for Sustainable Development,International Telecommunication Union,UNESCO,2021-09-21 The Order and Disorder of Communication Nir Shafir,2024-10-08 The seventeenth century Ottoman Empire was rife with polemical debate around worshipping at saints graves medical procedures smoking tobacco and other everyday practices Fueling these debates was a new form of writing the pamphlet a cheap short and mobile text that provided readers with simplified legal arguments These pamphlets were more than simply a novel way to disseminate texts they made a consequential shift in the way Ottoman subjects communicated This book offers the first comprehensive look at a new communication order that flourished in seventeenth century manuscript culture Through the example of the pamphlet Nir Shafir investigates the political and cultural institutions used to navigate regulate and encourage the circulation of information in a society in which all books were copied by hand He sketches an ecology of books examining how books were produced the movement of texts regulated education administered reading conducted and publics cultivated Pamphlets invited both the well and poorly educated to participate in public debates thus expanding the Ottoman body politic They also spurred an epidemic of fake authors and popular forms of reading Thus pamphlets became both the forum and the fuel for the polarization of Ottoman society Based on years of research in Islamic manuscript libraries worldwide this book illuminates a vibrant and evolving premodern manuscript culture Recent Advances in Science, Engineering & Technology Nishu Gupta,Sandeep S. Joshi,Milind Khanapurkar,Asha Gedam,Nikhil Bhawe,2024-08-05 The advances in technology engineering and science are necessary for better and sustainable life It is not only beneficial for human growth but equally important for all the living and non living matters on the planet Hence it is imperative to come together and share the knowledge innovations and developments in the technology and science happening around The objective of 1st International Conference on Recent Advances in Science Engineering Technology ICRASET 2023 was to provide platform to share various hypotheses conclusions and discoveries from students researchers professors and industry experts The conference was associated with the knowledge partners like ASM International IEEE IETE ISTE CSI and IE

This is Not Just a Painting Bernard Lahire,2019-04-15 In 2008 the Musée des Beaux Arts de Lyon acquired a painting called The Flight into Egypt which was attributed to the French artist Nicolas Poussin Thought to have been painted in 1657 the painting had gone missing for more than three centuries Several versions were rediscovered in the 1980s and one was passed from hand to hand from a family who had no idea of its value to gallery owners and eventually to the museum A painting that had been sold as a decorative object in 1986 for around 12 000 euros was acquired two decades later by the Musée des Beaux Arts de Lyon for 17 million euros What does this remarkable story tell us about the nature of art and the way that it is valued How is it that what seemed to be just an ordinary canvas could be transformed into a masterpiece that a decorative object could become a national treasure This is a story permeated by social magic the social alchemy that transforms lead into gold the ordinary into the extraordinary the profane into the sacred Focusing on this extraordinary case Bernard Lahire lays bare the beliefs and social processes that underpin the creation of a masterpiece Like a detective piecing together the clues in an unsolved mystery he carefully reconstructs the steps that led from the same material object being treated as a copy of insignificant value to being endowed with the status of a highly prized painting commanding a record breaking price He thereby shows that a painting is never just a painting and is always more than a piece of stretched canvas to which brush strokes of paint have been applied this object and the value we attach to it is also the product of a complex array of social processes with its distinctive institutions and experts that lies behind it And through the history of this painting Lahire uncovers some of the fundamental structures of our social world For the social magic that can transform a painting from a simple copy into a masterpiece is similar to the social magic that is present throughout our societies in economics and politics as much as art and religion a magic that results from the spell cast by power on those who tacitly recognize its authority By following the trail of a single work of art Lahire interrogates the foundations on which our perceptions of value and our belief in institutions rest and exposes the forms of domination which lie hidden behind our admiration of works of art The Misquotable C.S. Lewis William O'Flaherty,2018-03-16 C S Lewis wrote many great words but not everything you see with his name on it is from the famed author of the Narnia books Seventy five quotations are presented that have an association in one way or another with a host of names including Ryan Seacrest Anthony Hopkins Max Lucado Rick Warren and Tim Allen Learn the three most common ways Lewis is misrepresented 1 Falsely Attributed Quotes Expressions that are NOT by him 2 Paraphrased Words that are ALMOST what he said 3 Out of Context Material he wrote but are NOT QUITE what he believed This book doesn't stop there Also discover what Lewis actually said that is related to the presented misquotes Those new to Lewis and the more serious reader of his works will grow in their appreciation of a writer that is not only quotable but obviously misquotable

Writing and Identity Roz Ivani?, 1998 Writing is not just about conveying content but also about the representation of self One of the reasons people find writing difficult is that they do not feel comfortable with the me they are portraying in their writing Academic writing in particular often poses a conflict of identity for students in higher education because the self which is inscribed in academic discourse feels alien to them The main claim of this book is that writing is an act of identity in which people align themselves with socio culturally shaped subject positions and thereby play their part in reproducing or challenging dominant practices and discourses and the values beliefs and interests which they embody The first part of the book reviews recent understandings of social identity of the discursive construction of identity of literacy and identity and of issues of identity in research on academic writing The main part of the book is based on a collaborative research project about writing and identity with mature age students providing a case study of one writer's dilemmas over the presentation of self a discussion of the way in which writers' life histories shape their presentation of self in writing an interview based study of issues of ownership and of accommodation and resistance to conventions for the presentation of self linguistic analysis of the ways in which multiple often contradictory interests values beliefs and practices are inscribed in discourse conventions which set up a range of possibilities for selfhood for writers The book ends with implications of the study for research on writing and identity and for the learning and teaching of academic writing The book will be of interest to students and researchers in the fields of social identity literacy discourse analysis rhetoric and composition studies and to all those concerned to understand what is involved in academic writing in order to provide wider access to higher education

Orson Welles Randy Rasmussen,2014-08-21 Orson Welles a self conscious storyteller who often invited his audience to question the methods and veracity of what they see and hear He was that rare magician who both pulled the wool over our eyes for our delight and unravelled the wool before our eyes encouraging us to ponder the nature of the magic itself Many of the characters in Welles s movies can also be seen as magicians of a sort creating impressions intended to manipulate other characters or even themselves in one direction or another But unlike Welles few of them voluntarily expose their tricks to the scrutiny of their victims Six major Welles films Citizen Kane The Magnificent Ambersons The Lady from Shanghai Touch of Evil The Trial and Chimes at Midnight receive a scene by scene analysis in this critical study From a viewer s perspective it illuminates the dramatic rhythms of each film as they unfold on screen and from the soundtrack Frequent analogies to other movies and pertinent quotations from the impressions of other commentators broaden the text but always within the scene by scene progression dictated by the film under discussion

Borges's Creative Infidelities Leah Leone Anderson, 2024-05-16 Using comparative analyses of source and target texts Leone Anderson examines Jorge Luis Borges's residual presence in his Spanish language translations of works by James Joyce Virginia Woolf and William Faulkner Argentine writer and critic Jorge Luis Borges did not see translation as an inferior form of artistic production to be defined primarily in terms of loss or unfaithfulness but rather as a vast and rich source for literary innovation and aesthetic inquiry Borges's Creative Infidelities Translating Joyce Woolf and Faulkner explores what this view may have implied for his translations of Anglophone Modernist fiction the last two pages of James Joyce's Ulysses Virginia Woolf's A Room of One's Own and Orlando and William Faulkner's If I Forget Thee Jerusalem The Wild Palms Through full length manual comparisons of the English and Spanish texts this book reveals the ways Borges inscribed his tastes values and judgments both about the individual works and about Modernist literature in general onto his translations and how in doing so he altered the identities of their characters the ethical and rhetorical positioning of their narrators their plots and even their genres This book is driven by storytelling the stories of each text's origin and reception in English of how they ended up in Borges's hands and of his translation processes of how through his translations the texts' narratives were made to tell new stories and of the extraordinary legacies of Borges's Spanish translations of Joyce Woolf and Faulkner

Contemporary Perspectives on the Detection, Investigation and Prosecution of Art Crime Duncan Chappell, Saskia Hufnagel, 2016-05-13 In the world of law enforcement art and antiquity crime has in the past usually assumed a place of low interest and priority That situation has now slowly begun to change on both the local and international level as criminals encouraged in part by the record sums now being paid for art treasures are now seeking to exploit the art market more systematically by means of theft fraud and looting In this collection academics and practitioners from Australasia Europe and North America combine to examine the challenges presented to the criminal justice system by these developments Best practice methods of detecting investigating prosecuting and preventing such crimes are explored This book will be of interest and use to academics and practitioners alike in the areas of law crime and justice Le
