Kirby, 2011-02-04 How science consultants make movie science plausible in films ranging from 2001 A Space Odyssey to Finding Nemo Stanley

Kubrick's 2001 A Space Odyssey released in 1968 is perhaps the most scientifically accurate film ever produced. The film presented such a plausible realistic vision of space flight that many moon hoax proponents believe that Kubrick staged the 1969 moon landing using the same studios and techniques. Kubrick's scientific verisimilitude in 2001 came courtesy of his science consultants including two former NASA scientists and the more than sixty-five companies, research organizations and government agencies that offered technical advice. Although most filmmakers don't consult experts as extensively as Kubrick did, films ranging from A Beautiful Mind and Contact to Finding Nemo and The Hulk have achieved some degree of scientific credibility because of science consultants. In Lab Coats in Hollywood David Kirby examines the interaction of science and cinema, how science consultants make movie science plausible, how filmmakers negotiate scientific accuracy within production constraints and how movies affect popular perceptions of science. Drawing on interviews and archival material Kirby examines such science consulting tasks as fact checking and shaping visual iconography. Kirby finds that cinema can influence science as well. Depictions of science in popular films can promote research agendas, stimulate technological development and even stir citizens into political action. Nexus, 1999. Stories About Science in Law David S.

Caudill, 2016-04-01. Presenting examples of how literary accounts can provide a supplement to our understanding of science in law, this book challenges the view that law and science are completely different. It focuses on stories which explore the relationship between law and science, especially cultural images of science that prevail in legal contexts. Contrasting with other studies of the transfer and construction of expertise in legal settings, this book considers the intersection of three interdisciplinary projects: law and science, law and literature, and literature and science. Looking at the appropriation of scientific expertise into law from these perspectives, this book presents an original introduction into how we can gain insight into the use of science in the courtroom and in policy and regulatory settings through literary sources. Premiere, 2001.

Die Errettung der Menschheit Valentin Platzgummer, 2003. Am Beispiel der populären und hintergründigen Science Fiction Filme Matrix, Matrix Reloaded und Gattaca soll der derzeit kontrovers geführte Diskurs über die Möglichkeiten der Künstlichen Intelligenz und der Gentechnologie mit den daraus resultierenden Folgen erörtert werden. Die Filme zeigen Richtung und mögliche Grenzen der naturwissenschaftlichen Forschungen auf beiden Gebieten. Auf Computer, die über den Menschen hinauszuwachsen in der Lage sind und die Autozüchtung einer von der Natur losgelassenen Menschheit durch Gentechniker. Dies entspricht dem skularisierten ehemals spirituellen Wunsch nach Größe und Unendlichkeit der Menschheit, der die ständige Ausweitung der eigenen Grenzen fordert. Doch nicht nur kluge Maschinen sollen evolutionär bedingte Entwicklungen vorantreiben, die Möglichkeit der Eingriffe in das menschliche Erbgut und damit die Züchtung einer fehlerlosen, uniformen Gesellschaft ruft die Geisteswissenschaften auf den Plan. Das Ende so im Film Gattaca könnte ein positives Sein der Mensch und seine Fehler respektive Fehlentwicklungen führen ihn genau zu einem Prinzip hin, das wahrscheinlich seine Rettung bedeuten kann. APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service, Film Review.
