Gauteng Province November Paper Geography:

The Geography of South Africa Jasper Knight, Christian M. Rogerson, 2018-10-03 This edited collection examines contemporary directions in geographical research on South Africa. It encompasses a cross section of selected themes of critical importance not only to the discipline of Geography in South Africa but also of relevance to other areas of the Global South. All chapters are original contributions providing a state of the art research baseline on key themes in physical human and environmental geography and in understanding the changing geographical landscapes of modern South Africa. These contributions set the scene for an understanding of the relationships between modern South Africa and the wider contemporary world including issues of sustainable development and growth in the Global South. Regional Worlds: Advancing the Geography of Regions Martin Jones, Anssi Paasi, 2017-10-02 A key concern in the debate and empirical research on the geography of regions is the evolution of the conceptualizations and practical uses of the idea of region. This idea prioritises both the intellectual and the practical development of regional studies. This book drives the discussion further. It stresses the complex forms of agency and advocacy involved in the production and reproduction of regional spaces and space of regionalism as well as the importance of geohistory and context. The book moves beyond the territorial relational divide that has characterized debates on regions and regional borders since the 1990s. The contributors answer key questions from different conceptual and concrete contextual angles and to motivate readers to reflect on the perpetual significance of regional concepts and how they are mobilized by various actors to maintain or transform the contested spatialities of societal power relations. This book was based on a special issue of Regional Studies. Historical spatial change in the Gauteng City-Region Brian Mubiwa, Harold Annegarn, 2013-03-29 The mission of the Gauteng City Region Observatory GCRO is to help illuminate trends and dynamics shaping the region of towns and cities in and around Gauteng and also enhance understanding of the idea of the Gauteng City Region GCR as a project, a different way of thinking about and governing this space. While much of the data collection and analysis work of the GCRO is focused on the present, we also consider the city region's past and its possible futures. A 2030 National Development Plan crafted by the National Planning Commission has recently been adopted. In addition, the Gauteng Provincial Government working with municipal partners and business, civil society and labour stakeholders is drafting a G2055 long term development plan. As our society looks forward to what sort of country and region we need to become, it is also important to look backward. Understanding the past gives us insights into how we have come to be where we are now and so in turn what paths we should tread into the future. This Occasional Paper is one of two that GCRO has commissioned specifically to deepen our understanding of the past of the GCR. Both focus on aspects of the region's spatial past and ought to be read together. This paper by Brian Mubiwa and Harold Annegarn explores the historical spatial evolution of the GCR. It examines key spatial changes that have shaped the region over a century and provides a remarkable picture based on satellite imagery of regional spatial growth in the last two decades. The companion paper by Alan Mabin asks the different but related question of how the idea of a city region found expression in various statutory planning frameworks over the course of the last century and how embryonic cityregion concepts influenced spatial decisions and developments The Contested Idea of South Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Busani Ngcaweni, 2021-11-29 This book reflects on the complex and contested idea of South Africa drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Ever since the delineation of South Africa as a country the many diverse groups of people contained within its borders have struggled to translate a mere geographical description into the identity of a people Today the new struggles for South Africa and to become South African are inextricably intertwined with complex challenges of transformation xenophobia claims of reverse racism social justice economic justice service delivery and the resurgent decolonization struggles reverberating inside the universities This book covers the genealogy of the idea of South Africa exploring how the country has been conceived of by a broad group of actors including the British Afrikaners diverse African nationalist traditions and new formations such as the Economic Freedom Fighters EFF Black First Land First BLF and student formations Rhodes Must Fall Fees Must Fall Over the course of the book a broad range of themes are covered including identity formation modernity race ethnicity indigeneity autochthony land gender intellectual traditions poetics of South Africanness language popular culture truth and reconciliation and national development planning Concluding with important reflections on how a colonial imaginary can be changed into a free and inclusive postcolonial nation state this book will be an important read for Africanist researchers from across the humanities and social sciences Making Public in a Privatized World David A.

McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past

Geography Research Forum ,1997 Drum ,2006 Ambiguous Restructurings of Post-apartheid Cape Town Christoph Haferburg, Jürgen Ossenbrügge, 2003 What will tomorrow's Cape Town look like This volume reflects a variety of aspects of urban development and restructuring efforts in Cape Town in the last years A focus lies on the question if the apartheid city is reproducing itself This leads to an evaluation whether current policies really counter societal imbalances The essays presented here illuminate possible pathways towards the urban futures unfolding in a South African city in transition The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions Koech Cheruiyot, 2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book s focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region s Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant placed based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level This book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the Global South Higher Education, Community Engagement and Entrepreneurship in Southern Africa I. G. Govender, 2021-02-24 This volume explores the pressing issues of entrepreneurship education and development in Southern Africa It discusses the various roles of higher education institutions in enhancing entrepreneurship in localised communities and provides a systematic solution for improving the Southern African economy by realising the importance of empowering the youth with entrepreneurial skills In addition successful development requires effective policies and contemporary approaches to both community engagement and entrepreneurship management The book uses different Southern African case studies to discuss the various issues and innovations in entrepreneurship in the country

Interpellations, Questions and Replies of the National Assembly South Africa. Parliament (1994-). National Assembly, 1997 Debates of the National Assembly (Hansard) South Africa. Parliament (1994-). National Assembly, 1997 Social Media for Government Services Surya Nepal, Cécile Paris, Dimitrios Georgakopoulos, 2015-12-31 This book highlights state of the art research development and implementation efforts concerning social media in government services bringing together researchers and practitioners in a number of case studies It elucidates a number of significant challenges associated with social media specific to government services such as benefits and methods of assessing usability and suitability of tools technologies and platforms governance policies and frameworks opportunities for new services integrating social media with organisational business processes and specific case studies The book also highlights the range of uses and applications of social media in the government domain at both local and federal levels As such it offers a valuable resource for a broad readership including academic researchers practitioners in the IT industry developers and government policy and decision makers Resilience Reset Aditya V. Bahadur, Thomas Tanner, 2021-07-11 Drawing on evidence from urban resilience initiatives around the globe the authors make a compelling argument for a resilience reset a pause and stocktake that critically examines the concepts practices and challenges of building resilience particularly in cities of the Global South In turn the book calls for the world s cities to alter their course and pivot towards novel approaches to enhancing resilience The book presents shifts in ways of acquiring and analysing data building community resilience approaching urban planning engaging with informality delivering financing and building the skills of those running cities in a post COVID world grappling with climate impacts In Resilience Reset the authors encourage researchers policymakers and practitioners to break out of existing modes of thinking and doing that may no longer be relevant for our rapidly urbanising and dynamic world The book draws on the latest academic and practice based evidence to provide actionable insights for cities that will enable them to deal with multiple interacting shocks and stresses The book will be an indispensable resource to those studying urbanisation development climate change and risk management as well as for those designing and deploying operational initiatives to enhance urban resilience in businesses international organisations civil society organisations and governments It is a must read for anyone interested in managing the risks of climate impacts in urban centres in the Global South Johannesburg, Africa's World City ,2002 South Africa Survey ,1997 Public Libraries in Africa Aissa Issak,2000 The Promise of Planning Philip Harrison,Alison Todes,2024-07-10 The Promise of Planning explores the experience of planning internationally since the global financial crisis focusing on South Africa The book is a response to a decade plus in which state led planning has re emerged as a putative means for achieving developmental goals as indicated in global initiatives such as the New Urban Agenda and where planning in South Africa has consolidated in terms of its legal and policy basis However the return of planning is happening in an inauspicious context with economic fragilities technological shifts political populism institutional complexities and more threatening to upturn the new promise of planning The book provides a careful analytical account of planning in South Africa and how and why its promises have been difficult to achieve Building on the authors previous book Planning and Transformation the book sheds light on planning as an increasingly complex and diverse governmental practice within a perpetually changing world It can be used as a resource for planners who must make good on the new promise of planning while navigating the risks and threats of the contemporary world as well as students and faculty interested in international planning debates and the South African case Africa Analysis ,2005 A fortnightly bulletin on financial and political trends Annual Report South Africa.
