Gauteng 2014 June Exam Paper 2 Maths Literacy:

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy. The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages. Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools. The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully. The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience.

Early Childhood Mathematics Skill Development in the Home Environment Belinda Blevins-Knabe, Ann M. Berghout Austin, 2016-10-17 This volume presents current research on the connections between the home and family environment on children's mathematics development. Focusing on infancy through first grade it details the role of parents and other caregivers in promoting numeracy and the ways their active participation can prepare young children for learning about formal mathematics. Research data answer key questions regarding the development of numeracy alongside cognitive and linguistic skills, early acquisition of specific math skills and numeracy of children with atypical language skills. The book also provides practical recommendations for parents and other caregivers as well as implications for future research studies and curriculum design. Included in the coverage: Ways to optimize home numeracy environments; Individual differences in numerical abilities; Cross cultural comparisons and ways to scaffold young children's mathematical skills; Mathematics and language in the home environment; Center based and family based child care; Games and home numeracy practice.

Early Childhood Mathematics Skill Development in the Home Environment is an essential resource for researchers, graduate students and professionals in infancy and early childhood development, child and school psychology, early childhood education, social work, mathematics education and educational psychology.
