Nkrumah,1976-02-17 Routledge Library Editions: Curriculum Various,2021-07-09 Reissuing works originally published between 1971 and 1994 this collection includes books which offer a broad spectrum of views on curriculum both within individual schools and the wider issues around curriculum development reform and implementation Some cover the debate surrounding the establishment of the national curriculum in the UK while others are a more international in scope

Many of these books go beyond theory to discuss practical issues of real curriculum changes at primary or secondary level. The Set includes books on cross curricular topics such as citizenship and environment and also guidance careers life skills and pastoral care in schools. A fantastic collection of education history with much still relevant today. Assessing Students Derek Rowntree, 2015-11-30. Assessment methods can largely determine what and how students learn so it is vital that our assessment methods are appropriate to our true educational purposes. This book examines the issues underlying assessment procedures such as truth, fairness, trust, humanity and social justice and goes on to consider the five key dimensions of assessment: why assess, what to assess, how to assess, How to interpret, How to respond. Having guided us through the many conceptual and terminological traps, the book ends constructively with seventeen proposals for making assessment work in the best interests of our students. Music as the Source of Learning A.S. Wisbey, 2012-12-06. The evidence grows daily that much learning failure results from undetected early childhood hearing problems. Gordon 1977. This is because the child is deprived of the state of acute hearing sensitivity normally present at birth which makes it possible to recognize the loudness levels and duration of each individual sound. This is how a child learns the significance of the slightest variations in the quality of each sound as he collects information from the environment through all his senses and the meaning of these changes is experienced and understood. As a result of normal sensory experience and reaction with the environment, the multisensory systems are used and developed. Similarly, the growth of the brain is stimulated to make possible the storage of information and to produce the biochemical state necessary to transmit and relate the sensory information so collected and stored. Monckeberg and Prescott 1975. If the loudness level of sound is reduced so too is its impact. In this form, a baby's normal startle response to a sound which includes the flickering open of the eyes is rarely experienced. This response of the eyes is a seeking out of a sound source. The visual localizing of sound sources leading to the anticipation of their spatial position arises from the ability to hear the fine changes of pitch and loudness levels involved in movement. The International Handbook of Educational Research in the Asia-Pacific Region J.P. Keeves, Ryo Watanabe, 2013-11-11. The aim of the Handbook is to present readily accessible but scholarly sources of information about educational research in the Asia Pacific region. The scale and scope of the Handbook is such that the articles included in it provide substantive contributions to knowledge and understanding of education in the Asia region. In so doing, the articles present the problems and issues facing education in the region and the findings of research conducted within the region that contribute to the resolution of these problems and issues. Moreover, since new problems and issues are constantly arising, the articles in the Handbook also indicate the likely directions of future developments. The different articles within the Handbook seek to conceptualize the problems in each specific content area under review, provide an integration of the research conducted within that area, the theoretical basis of the research, the practical implications of the research and the contribution of the research towards the resolution of the problems identified. Thus the articles do not involve the reporting of newly conducted research but rather require a synthesis of the research undertaken in a particular area with reference to the research methods employed and the theoretical frameworks on which the research is based In general the articles do not advocate a single point of view but rather present alternative points of view and comment on the debate and disagreements associated with the conduct and findings of the research Furthermore it should be noted that the Handbook is not concerned with research methodology and only considers the methods employed in inquiry in so far as the particular methods of research contribute to the effective investigation of problems and issues that have arisen in the conduct and provision of education at different levels within the region
