Twenty years of data from the IEA's Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS) and TIMSS Advanced assessments are analyzed specifically for five countries: Italy, Norway, Russian Federation, Slovenia, and the United States, who participated in all or almost all TIMSS and TIMSS Advanced assessments between 1995 and 2015. The report focuses on students' understandings related to gravitational force in physics and linear equations in mathematics. It identifies some specific misconceptions, errors, and misunderstandings demonstrated by the TIMSS Advanced grade 12 students for these core concepts and shows how these can be traced back to poor foundational development of these concepts in earlier grades. Patterns in misconceptions and misunderstandings are reported by grade, country, and gender. In addition, specific misconceptions and misunderstandings are tracked over time using trend items administered in multiple assessment cycles. The study and associated methodology may enable education systems to help identify specific needs in the curriculum, improve instruction across grades, and also raise possibilities for future TIMSS assessment design and reporting that may provide more diagnostic outcomes.

Scything Time Alan Hall, 2015-01-07 I believe that I will make a better future is a popular notion of political, religious, educational, and business leaders. To believe is to think that something is true or real. This does not mean it is true. Beliefs become opinions which are fixed and non-negotiable. It is difficult to exchange ideas when a sentence starts with "I believe" and there is no backup of fact. The belief is irrelevant, and the behaviour will determine the state of the future. Western leadership drowns in greed, entitlement, belief, and gross ignorance, while those who follow scrabble for the remnants of bad behaviour. Zionism is a quasi-Christian Jewish belief that has distorted behaviour for 3000 years. Western leaders do not understand that unshared wealth is a crime against humanity. ICT-Based Assessment, Methods, and Programs in Tertiary Education Meri Yilan, Serpil, Koruyan, Kasim, 2020-04-17 The use of information and communication technologies (ICTs) in education has revolutionized learning. Shifting beyond traditional mode of education, the integration of ICTs has become an advantage for students at tertiary education when used for the right purpose to enhance learning.
