This book is very useful for the competitive students who are preparing the forth coming examinations Learning across Contexts in the Knowledge Society Ola Erstad,Kristiina Kumpulainen,Åsa Mäkitalo,Kim Christian Schrøder,Pille Pruulmann-Vengerfeldt,Thuridur Jóhannsdóttir,2016-02-10 Developments within the knowledge society especially those resulting from technological innovation have intensified an interest in the relationship between different contexts and multiple sites of learning across what is often termed as formal non formal and informal learning environments The aim of this book is to trace learning and experience across multiple sites and contexts as a means to generate new knowledge about the borders and edges of different practices and the boundary crossings these entail in the learning lives of young people in times of dynamic societal environmental economic and technological change The empirical research discussed in this book has grown out of a Nordic network of researchers The research initiatives in the Nordic countries tend to avoid the more spectacular debates over the future of the educational institutions that tend to dominate and obscure discussions on education in the knowledge society and which look to models of informal learning whether in the learning communities of workplaces and families or in the new socio technical spaces of the Internet as a source of alternative educational strategies. Rather, Nordic researchers more modestly ask whether it is possible to envisage new models of teaching and learning which take seriously both the responsibility to social justice and social wellbeing which at least rhetorically underpinned a commitment to mass education of the 20th century as well as to the radical challenges to traditional educational models offered by the new socio technical spaces and practices of the 21st century.

Creation: "Behold, it was very good." Richard Schaefer, 2019-10-28. Author Richard A. Schaefer was a lifelong communicator fascinated by stories and like any good journalist dug for the facts and verified sources exploring nagging questions such as: Is creation or evolution more credible based on science and expert opinions? This book truly represented a personal passion of looking at all sides of the CREATION vs EVOLUTION issue. He called on many experts and theorists including Charles Darwin himself. Surprisingly, Darwin was far more skeptical of his own theories than are many PhDs today and admitted to significant holes in his logic. Read for yourself as great thinkers explore the pros and cons of both theories and their variants. The Science of Interest Paul A. O'Keefe, Judith M. Harackiewicz, 2017-08-01. This exceptional volume analyzes the intricate roles interest plays in cognition, motivation, and learning and daily living with a special focus on its development and maintenance across life domains. Leading experts discuss a spectrum of interest ranging from curiosity to obsession and trace its functions in goal setting, decision making, self-regulation, and performance. New research refines the current knowledge on student interest in educational settings and the social contexts of interest with insights into why interest levels change during engagement and in the long run. From these findings, contributors address ways to foster and nurture interest in the therapy room and the classroom for optimum benefits throughout life. Among the topics covered: Embedding interest within self-regulation; Knowledge acquisition at the intersection of situational and individual interest; The role of interest in motivation and engagement; The two faces of passion; Creative geniuses, polymaths, child prodigies, and autistic savants; The promotion and development of interest. A robust guide to a fascinating area of study, The Science of Interest synthesizes the field's current knowledge of interest and indicates future directions. Its chapters contribute depth and rigor to this growing area of research and will enhance the work of researchers in education, psychologists, social scientists, and public policymakers. Answers to Your Biggest Questions About Teaching Secondary Science Karen Mesmer, Enya Granados, Kevin Gant, Laura Shafer, Ayanna D. Perry, 2024-01-16. Your guide to grow and flourish as a science teacher. The past two decades have seen a paradigm shift in science education thanks in large part to the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) which advocate a move away from procedural lab investigations and direct instruction and toward increased emphasis on reasoning, sensemaking, phenomena exploration, problem solving, and collaboration. Under this new paradigm, students are learning real science as scientists practice it so that more and more students are actively investigating questions and pursuing solutions of their own making. As part of the Five to Thrive series for early career educators this comprehensive guide provides those who are new to teaching science as well as seasoned teachers looking to enhance their practice the fundamentals to develop best teaching practices that reflect their students experiences and requirements Written by experienced science educators Answers to Your Biggest Questions About Teaching Secondary Science provides practical guidance on successful strategies and techniques for teaching science in a way that gives every student the opportunity to learn grow and achieve at high levels while providing opportunities to develop their agency and authority in the classroom ultimately resulting in a positive science identity The book is organized around five overarching questions and answers that will help you most thrive in your secondary science classroom How do I build a positive science community How do I structure organize and manage my science class How do I engage my students in science How do I help my students talk about science How do I know what my students know and how can I use that information to plan and move them forward The book concludes with a sixth question Where do I go from here that provides guidance for growing your practice over time including discussions on self care advocating for students and an extensive discussion on growing your professional network Woven throughout you ll find helpful sidebar notes on fostering identity and agency access and equity teaching in different settings and invaluable resources for deeper learning Strive to become the best science educator you can be your students are counting on it
