Shareholder Cities Sai Balakrishnan, 2019-11-01 Economic corridors ambitious infrastructural development projects that newly liberalizing countries in Asia and Africa are undertaking are dramatically redefining the shape of urbanization Spanning multiple cities and croplands these corridors connect metropolises via high speed superhighways in an effort to make certain strategic regions attractive destinations for private investment As policy makers search for decentralized and market oriented means for the transfer of land from agrarian constituencies to infrastructural promoters and urban developers the reallocation of property control is erupting into volatile land based social conflicts In Shareholder Cities Sai Balakrishnan argues that some of India's most decisive conflicts over its urban future will unfold in the regions along the new economic corridors where electorally strong agrarian propertied classes directly encounter financially powerful incoming urban firms Balakrishnan focuses on the first economic corridor the Mumbai Pune Expressway and the construction of three new cities along it The book derives its title from a current mode of resolving agrarian urban conflicts in which agrarian landowners are being transformed into shareholders in the corridor cities and the distributional implications of these new land transformations Shifting the focus of the study of India's contemporary urbanization away from megacities to these in between corridor regions Balakrishnan explores the production of uneven urban development that unsettles older histories of agrarian capitalism and the emergence of agrarian propertied classes as protagonists in the making of urban real estate markets Shareholder Cities highlights the possibilities for a democratic politics of inclusion in which agrarian urban encounters can create opportunities for previously excluded groups to stake new claims for themselves in the corridor regions

Implementing IT governance in the public sector by use of bootstrap algorithms Petter Ogland, 2017-11-29 It has been argued that the reason seventy percent of all IT projects fail is due to lack of a formal system for guiding and monitoring IT decisions Organisations having explicit IT governance systems are generally twice as successful as those with poor governance given the same strategic objectives but implementing IT governance can be difficult In this book Dr Ogland looks at the public sector and argues that the implementation of IT governance has to be done through bootstrapping The bootstrap algorithm BA is a time tested approach that is known to work but it is an approach that breaks with much of the logic of the public sector bureaucracy and is expected to be met with resistance By analysing patterns in a study of trying to convince a Norwegian public sector organisation to implement IT governance through the use of the BA the book is able to provide rich insights on what causes failure and how to make the implementation process

The African American Male School Adaptability Crisis (Amsac) Joe L. Rempson, 2016-03-12 The African American Male School Adaptability Crisis AMSAC cannot be solved by the school alone It is a race problem which can only be solved if we black males provide the leadership in tackling our three major demons which now mainly account for the problem IQ lag fatherless families crime AMSAC had its origin about 100 years ago when after the death of Washington DuBois gained ascendancy in our African American Garden of Eden and replaced Washingtons brains property and character gospel with a civil rights agenda That agenda has led to a civil rights fixation and our second bondage Victimology wherein being the victim has become part of our core identity and made us psychological slaves Rather than being proud and self reliant disproportionately we have come to see ourselves as victims who are entitled to system help and special treatment This bondage and it is a bondage vitiates our manhood and the energy and drive required to pursue the adaptation pathway paved by Washington but demonized by DuBois Return to that pathway and we can confront and conquer AMSAC and our three major demons Guided by history and the research evidence this book details how Its 20 chapters make for long reading but just by reading the first and last chapters you can get the message The motto of the proposed evidence based experimental program the African American Male Career Pathway Program AMCAP A special appeal is made to black athletes and entertainers to help propagate this motto and support the proposed high school student clubs Student AMCAPs in its implementation

Dammed Brittany Luby, 2020-10-09 Dammed explores Canada s hydroelectric boom in the Lake of the Woods area It complicates narratives of increasing affluence in postwar Canada revealing that the inverse was true for Indigenous communities along the Winnipeg

River Dammed makes clear that hydroelectric generating stations were designed to serve settler populations. Governments and developers excluded the Anishinabeg from planning and operations and failed to consider how power production might influence the health and economy of their communities. By so doing, Canada and Ontario thwarted a future that aligned with the terms of treaty: a future in which both settlers and the Anishinabeg might thrive in shared territories. The same hydroelectric development that powered settler communities flooded manomin fields, washed away roads, and compromised fish populations. Anishinaabe families responded creatively to manage the government-sanctioned environmental change and survive the resulting economic loss. Luby reveals these responses to dam development, inviting readers to consider how resistance might be expressed by individuals and families and across gendered and generational lines. Luby weaves text, testimony, and experience together, grounding this historical work in the territory of her paternal ancestors' lands she calls home. With evidence drawn from archival material, oral history, and environmental observation, Dammed invites readers to confront Canadian colonialism in the twentieth century.
