Writing for People Who Hate Writing William Heise,2009-11-15 College Writing Bob*Star Publishing,2012-08-12 A complete college writing course in a single volume

College Writing Skills Peder Jones,Jay Farness,2002-10 College Writing Skills uses explanation demonstration and practice to teach skills essential to success in college writing For this course Peder Jones and Jay Farness have constructed a framework of rhetoric work in composing paragraphs and essays around disciplined study of sentences and words The authors have sought in each section of the book to combine the most useful features of contemporary and traditional approaches to college English. Their overall aim is to enable the beginning college writer to compose clear and effective sentences, paragraphs, and compositions. This new edition of College Writing Skills is a refinement of the four previous editions; it has been shaped by helpful comments from students and instructors who have used the course. Exercises have been updated, and many minor changes for clarity have been made. Basic features of this text have not changed, however. As a hybrid of textbook and workbook, it continues to stress focused practice leading to directed, independent composing activities; it emphasizes student writing rather than students reading about writing. This emphasis translates into more than 500 sets of exercises, more than 100 optional workshop activities, and an Appendix covering special problems in the acquisition of English. The exercises in this textbook embody our belief that practice is crucial to improving one's writing skills. Accordingly, this text provides practice in forming ideas, getting ideas out of one's head and onto paper, experimenting with various sentence structures in order to achieve clarity, following models of correct grammar and effective style, and in making the writing process pay off through effective revision and editing.

Best-selling authors and veteran college writing instructors Laurie Kirsznier and Stephen Mandell believe that students learn to write best when they use their own writing as a starting point. In Writing First with Readings, Practice in Context, designed for the paragraph-to-essay course, Kirsznier and Mandell take seriously the ideas and expressive abilities of developmental students as well as their need to learn the rules of writing and grammar. Visual writing prompts that open every chapter get students writing immediately. By moving frequently between their own writing, writing models, and instruction, and workbook-style mastery exercises, students get constant reinforcement of the skills they are learning. Thoughtful chapters on college success, research, and critical reading, along with high-interest essays, round out the text, making it the perfect introduction to college writing.
