Concepcion, 2014-04-10 When it comes to HDR only three key ingredients are needed hardware software and post processing technique Hardware is simple there are only a few things you need to set up and shoot an HDR series Software is vastly improved making it easier for anyone to create an HDR image The hard part is the post processing technique There are only two options hours and hours of experimentation or The HDR Book Featuring real world interviews with passionate HDR photographers this updated edition of the popular The HDR Book by Rafael RC Concepcion is more than a how to and different from any other HDR book out there While other books on HDR tend to lean toward the esoteric or formulaic this book takes another approach It's a complete and total HDR workshop that teaches you the one thing that most other books miss once you've tone mapped your image with HDR software you're still not finished Within the pages of this book you'll find 10 projects now updated shot with everything from a point and shoot to a 37 megapixel medium format camera The projects are designed to show you how the subtle differences in each scenario lighting subject environment etc dictate the post processing needed to achieve one of the many final looks covered You'll learn not only the different tone map settings RC used but you'll also learn the final steps taken in Photoshop to complete each image Then you'll recreate these looks yourself using the exact same RAW files that RC used Plus you get four bonus images to play with and create your own look The end result a more intrinsic understanding of the nuances of HDR that will help you create the images you've always wanted Best of all The HDR Book is written using the three top HDR processing programs in the industry today Photoshop's HDR Pro Photomatix Pro and HDR Efex Pro No matter which program you use you'll be able to follow along and create your own stunning looks in no time The Film Photography Book Shawn M. Tomlinson, 2016-07-24 Film is back And about time too We just were getting a little too comfortable with the idea of snapping selfies on our dumb phones at the ends of vanity sticks when film returned to slap us up Film is not for the faint of heart It takes serious effort serious time It costs money for each frame from buying the film to paying to develop it or developing it in a film tank Only those interested in the unique and fantastic look of film will brave this path The Film Photography Book is for us those interested in all aspects of film photography from choosing cameras and lenses to choosing film and subjects to buying chemicals and processing The book can serve as a refresher to those who now are returning to film photography after a long absence and as a getting started course for those who never shot film in their lives It's an adventure a new Voyage of Photography part of Shawn M Tomlinson's Guide to Photography Series the beginning of a sub series about film photography Come on along Exposure and Understanding the Histogram Andrew S. Gibson, 2014-09-10 What's the best way to determine exposure? How do you know which settings to use for various lighting scenarios? Why does exposure differ for digital photography versus film photography? In this ebook, photographer Andrew S. Gibson answers these questions and more, showing how to use the histogram to obtain optimum exposure in your images. Going beyond simply focusing on how to achieve the right exposure for a given situation, he examines how the question of exposure is as open to creative interpretation as any other aspect of photography. By the end of this guide, you'll understand how to take a photo that is correctly exposed using the tools provided by your DSLR camera. In this updated edition, he provides in-depth coverage of using Manual mode, including how to use Live View with a filter to make adjustments to composition and focus, and using manual lens attachments to ensure proper metering for correct exposure. In addition, he provides greatly expanded coverage of three key scenarios: the subject brightness matches the dynamic range of the sensor, the subject brightness is less than the dynamic range of the sensor, and the subject brightness is greater than the dynamic range of the sensor. This coverage includes details on how to use diffusers, portable flash, reflectors, and much more.
