Marketing of Tourism Experiences Noel Scott, Eric Laws, Philipp Boksberger, 2013-09-13 This book provides a review of the current theory and practice of experiential tourism and how it is marketed Many societies today are characterised by widespread individual wealth of an order previously confined to the elite with the consequence that ownership of ordinary physical goods is no longer a distinguishing factor. Instead, people are now seeking the extraordinary, with examples being bodies enhanced through surgery, personal fitness trainers, and in the case of leisure and tourism, seeking unique and unusual places to visit and activities to undertake. This trend manifests in the increasing consumption of services and the addition of experiential elements to physical goods by businesses aware of societal changes. The trend is enhanced by rapidly changing technology and economic production methods providing new sectors of the world's population with access to the consumption experiences that are repeatedly featured in the media. This is the experience economy characterised by a search by consumers for fantasies, feelings, and fun. This book was based on a special issue of Journal of Hospitality Marketing Management.

New Techniques for Modeling, Prognosis, Diagnosis, and Treatment of Human Knee Pathology Abdelwahed Barkaoui, Bernardo Innocenti, João Manuel R. S. Tavares, 2025-01-06. The knee joint is one of the largest and most powerful joints of the human body since it supports enormous loads and pressures while offering stable and flexible movements. For this reason, the lower limb is vulnerable to the appearance of degenerative diseases such as femoro-tibial osteoarthritis (OA) that dramatically reduces the quality of life in a patient. Knee osteoarthritis represents an enormous public health problem for patients and imposes a significant economic burden. Knee OA leads to annual healthcare expenses of more than 27 billion with gross knee arthroplasty budgets reaching 11 billion annually. Developing new prognostic technology and methodology could contribute to the detection of this disease and reduce human and economic losses. The objective of this research topic is to collect recent studies on the development of new techniques for the prognosis, prediction, diagnosis, and modeling of human knee diseases, in particular, osteoarthritis.
