

A Biography for Kids Sample

Michelangelo Giordano is a professional basketball player. With a height of 212cm, he is the fifth tallest player in the Italian National Basketball League. He has played in the Italian National Basketball League since his debut in 2003. He started playing basketball as a boy in his backyard when he was just 5 years old. Michelangelo played in a youth league for six years and was captain of his team when he was just ten. He helped lead his team to the championships three times. In high school, he played on his school's varsity team. During his time there, Michelangelo scored more points than anybody else at the high school with a career high of 1250 points. He was selected as the Most Valuable Player during his senior year. He was scouted out by many colleges, but decided to go to the University of Italy in Florence.

During his time at college, he worked with his team to make it to the national tournaments every year. Michelangelo played the position of point guard. When he was in his third year of college, he was made captain of the team. That year, he led his team to become the #2 college basketball team in Italy. After Michelangelo finished college, he entered the draft for the Italian National Basketball Squad and was selected by the Florence Machines in 2003. He played there for 5 years. Afterwards, he played for the Naples Warriors, where he is still playing today.

In 2012, Michelangelo was selected to play for the Italian National Squad to play in the European Continental Tournament between all European countries held every four years. The Italian team played very well and managed to make it to the final four teams in the tournament. In 2016, Michelangelo has been selected again to play in the European Continental Tournament. He hopes that this time that they can make it to the championships and win.

They Also Write for Kids Suzanne Manizza Roszak, 2022-12-28 Outside the world of children's literature studies children's books by authors of well known texts for adults are often forgotten or marginalized Although many adults today read contemporary children's and young adult fiction for pleasure others continue to see such texts as unsuitable for older audiences and they are unlikely to cross read children's books that were themselves cross written by authors like Chinua Achebe Anita Desai Joy Harjo or Amy Tan Meanwhile these literary voices have produced politically vital works of children's literature whose complex themes persist across boundaries of expected audience These works form part of a larger body of activist writing for children that has long challenged preconceived notions about the seriousness of such books and ideas about who in fact should read them They Also Write for Kids Cross Writing Activism and Children's Literature seeks to draw these cross writing projects together and bring them to the attention of readers In doing so this book invites readers to place children's literature in conversation with works more typically understood as being for adult audiences read multiethnic US literature alongside texts by global writers consider children's poetry and nonfiction as well as fiction and read diachronically as well as cross culturally These ways of reading offer points of entry into a world of books that refuse to exclude young audiences in scrutinizing topics that range from US settler colonialism and linguistic prejudice to intersectional forms of gender inequality The authors included here also employ an intricate array of writing strategies that challenge lingering stereotypes of children's literature as artistically as well as intellectually simplistic They subversively repurpose tropes and conventions from canonical children's books embrace an epistemology of children's literature that emphasizes ambiguity and complexity invite readers to participate in redefining concepts such as civilization and cultural belonging engage in intricate acts of cross cultural representation and re envision their own earlier works in new forms tailored explicitly to younger audiences Too often disregarded by skeptical adults these texts offer rich rewards to readers of all ages and here they are brought to the fore

Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature Danielle E. Price, 2023-10-31 Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature brings a fresh perspective to a central literary question Who speaks by examining a variety of represented silences These include children who do not speak do not yet speak effectively or speak on behalf of others A rich and unexamined literary archive explores the problematics of children who are literally silent or metaphorically so because they cannot communicate effectively with adults or peers This project centers children's literature in the question of voice by considering disability gender race and ecocriticism Children's literature rests on a paradox at the root of its own genre it is produced by an adult author writing to a constructed idea of what children should be By reading a range of contemporary children's literature this book scrutinizes how such texts narrate the child's journey from communicative alterity to a place of empowered adult speech Sometimes the child's verbal enclosure enables privacy and resistance At other times silence is coerced or imposed or arises from bodily impairment Children may act as intermediaries speaking on behalf of species that cannot Recently we have seen children exercise their voices on the world stage and as authors In all cases the texts analyzed here reveal speech as a minefield to be traversed Children who talk too much too little or with insufficient expertise pose problems to themselves and others Implicitly and sometimes explicitly they attempt to hold adults to account inside and outside the text Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature addresses this underconceptualized subject in what will be an important text for scholars of children's literature childhood studies English disability studies gender studies race studies ecopedagogy and education
