The Editor ,1928 Banach Spaces and Descriptive Set Theory: Selected Topics Pandelis Dodos,2010-04-15 These notes are devoted to the study of some classical problems in the Geometry of Banach spaces The novelty lies in the fact that their solution relies heavily on techniques coming from Descriptive Set Theory The central theme is universality problems In particular the text provides an exposition of the methods developed recently in order to treat questions of the following type Q Let C be a class of separable Banach spaces such that every space X in the class C has a certain property say property P When can we find a separable Banach space Y which has property P and contains an isomorphic copy of every member of C We will consider quite classical properties of Banach spaces such as being reflexive having separable dual not containing an isomorphic copy of c_0 being non universal etc 0 It turns out that a positive answer to problem Q for any of the above mentioned properties is possible if and essentially only if the class C is simple The simplicity of C is measured in set theoretic terms Precisely if the class C is analytic in a natural coding of separable Banach spaces then we can indeed find a separable space Y which is universal for the class C and satisfies the requirements imposed above Editor & Publisher ,1917

Ideas in Unexpected Places Leslie M. Alexander, Brandon R. Byrd, Russell Rickford, 2022-04-15 This transformative collection advances new approaches to Black intellectual history by foregrounding the experiences and ideas of people who lacked access to more privileged mechanisms of public discourse and power While the anthology highlights renowned intellectuals such as W E B Du Bois it also spotlights thinkers such as enslaved people in the antebellum United States US Black expatriates in Guyana and Black internationals in Liberia The knowledge production of these men women and children has typically been situated outside the disciplinary and conceptual boundaries of intellectual history The volume centers on the themes of slavery and sexuality abolitionism Black internationalism Black protest politics and power and the intersections of the digital humanities and Black intellectual history The essays draw from diverse methodologies and fields to examine the ideas and actions of Black thinkers from the eighteenth century to the present offering fresh insights while creating space for even more creative approaches within the field Timely and incisive Ideas in Unexpected Places encourages scholars to ask new questions through innovative interpretive lenses and invites students scholars and other practitioners to push the boundaries of Black intellectual history even further The Philosophical Works of John Locke: Preliminary discourse by the editor. On the conduct of the understanding. An essay concerning human understanding John Locke, 1908 Forum ,1991

into a powerful new approach to producing An ideal text for aspiring filmmakers The Strategic Producer orients the reader's mind set towards self empowerment by sharing essential and timeless techniques producers need to get the job done while also embracing the constantly evolving production landscape Written in clear succinct and non technical prose Includes six sidebar in depth interviews with industry professionals providing additional perspectives Clearly presented line drawings help readers quickly understand complex ideas like production timelines story structure and business models Includes samples from key documents such as script pages budgets shooting schedules and business plans for potential investors

New Ideas in Tokamak Confinement Marshall N. Rosenbluth, 1997-05-08 Market Scientists and students involved in thermonuclear fusion research Thermonuclear fusion research using the confinement device tokamak represents one of the most prominent science projects in the second half of the 20th century International Tokamak Community is now committing significant effort and funds to experiments with burning plasma hot and dense enough to produce significant nuclear fusion reactions The methods used to enhance tokamak performance have a profound and immediate effect on machine design This book provides an up to date account of research in tokamak fusion and puts forward innovative ideas in confinement physics

Topics in Multiple Time Scale Dynamics Maximilian Engel, Hildeberto Jardón-Kojakhmetov, Cinzia Soresina, 2024-10-21 This volume contains the proceedings of the BIRS Workshop Topics in Multiple Time Scale Dynamics held from November 27 December 2 2022 at the Banff International Research Station Banff Alberta Canada The area of multiple scale dynamics is rapidly evolving marked by significant theoretical breakthroughs and practical applications The workshop facilitated a convergence of experts from various sub disciplines encompassing topics like blow up techniques for ordinary differential equations ODEs singular perturbation theory for stochastic differential equations SDE homogenization and averaging slow fast maps numerical approaches and network dynamics including their applications in neuroscience and climate science This volume provides a wide ranging perspective on the current challenging subjects being explored in the field including themes such as novel approaches to blowing up and canard theory in unique contexts complex multi scale challenges in PDEs and the role of stochasticity in multiple scale systems The Idea of the City Joan Fitzpatrick, 2009-05-05 This collection of essays emerges from a two day international conference held at the University of Northampton UK It contains the best of the papers presented by 45 delegates from 12 countries UK India USA Canada Italy France Ireland Australia Romania Japan Germany Portugal involving both established academics and new scholars The collection is divided into three parts Part 1 Medieval and Early Modern Cities Performance and Poetry Part 2 Defining Urban Space the Metropolis and the Provincial and Part 3 Modern and Postmodern Cities Marginal Urban Identities The chapters explore the nature of the modern city in literature history film and culture from its origins in the early modern period to post modern dislocations and considers the city as a context within which literature is created structured and inspired and as a space within which distinct voices and genres emerge Much interest has developed recently on the city and its contexts but there is a tendency to focus on London for example there is the journal Literary London Interdisciplinary Studies in the Representation of London and the annual Literary London Conference a major conference that has run since 2002 This collection fills an important gap in the market by having a truly global focus Joan Fitzpatrick's The Idea of the City represents a fascinating snapshot of the current state of literary urban studies Conference proceedings can often seem diffuse or tokenistic but this collection offers unity on several levels For a start many of the contributors ask similar questions of their material approaching it with an informed awareness of the ways in which the city has been theorised as well as actually traversed from the medieval period to the present While one would expect work of this type and standard from established and widely published scholars such as Pamela Gilbert and Julian Wolfreys it is refreshing to see how new researchers are blending the cartographic with the psychological to raise important questions about the perception analysis and mythologisation of urban and metropolitan space The collection is impressively eclectic ranging from Petrarch's Avignon to modern Los Angeles and from 18th century Lichfield to operative imaginings of Venice As I said however the collection is unified at a deep level by the contributors shared interest in city writing and by their conviction that there is a complex relationship between space place and self This means that the book would be of use and interest to those working on individual writers including contemporary novelists such as Niall Griffiths on whom little has yet been published and in the more general areas of urban and cultural studies and critical theory The collection as a whole allows the reader to revisit the ideas of influential works from the previous decade such as Keith Tester's The Flâneur 1994 Sophie Watson and Katherine Gibson's Postmodern Cities and Spaces 1995 and Susana Onega and John Stotesbury's London in Literature Visionary Mappings of the Metropolis 2002 It is therefore both a useful round up of established ideas from various city centred disciplines and a starting point for the fresh consideration of enduringly suggestive material Dr Nick Freeman Loughborough University Author of Conceiving the City London Literature and Art 1870-1914 In this substantial volume the editor has assembled an international line up of scholars working on the city from the Renaissance to the present This is an important and timely work that has depth as well as breadth Interdisciplinary and cross period collections like this which straddle several historical periods run the risk of appealing only in part to coherent scholarly communities but Dr Fitzpatrick has structured the collection in a way which plays to the strength of critics working within particular periods while clearly displaying the latticework of links between the book's strongly marked sections There is an excellent balance between historical and theoretical readings between textual and contextual approaches and between interventions that are author or text based and those that deal with broader themes and issues The range of contributors is matched by the richness and variety of perspectives I would strongly recommend this book to students working in the early modern period and also to those interested in modern developments It is a comprehensive intelligently organized and richly researched volume that is likely to be well received well reviewed and well read I will certainly be ordering copies for my own University library and including it on reading lists for future courses Professor Willy Maley University of Glasgow The Musical World ,1858

Thing and Space Edmund Husserl,2013-03-14 This is a translation of Edmund Husserl's lecture course from the Summer semester 1907 at the University of Gottingen The German original was published posthumously in 1973 as Volume XVI of Husserliana Husserl's opera omnia The translation is complete including both the main text and the supplementary texts as Husserliana volumes are usually organized except for the critical apparatus which provides variant readings The announced title of the lecture course was Main parts of the phenomenology and critique of reason The course began with five relatively independent introductory lectures These were published on their own in 1947 bearing the title The idea of phenomenology I The Five Lectures comprise a general orientation by proposing the method to be employed in the subsequent working out of the actual problems viz the method of phenomenological reduction and by clarifying at least provisionally some technical terms that will be used in the labor the subsequent lectures will carry out The present volume then presents that labor i.e the method in action and the results attained As such this text dispels the abstract impression which could not help but cling to the first five lectures taken in isolation Accordingly we are here given genuine introductory lectures i.e an introduction to phenomenology in the genuine phenomenological sense of engaging in the work of phenomenology going to the matters at issue themselves rather than remaining aloof from them in abstract considerations of standpoint and approach
