The Boston Tea Party

On December 16, 1773, American colonists dumped 340 chests of tea into the Boston harbor. Why did they do it, and how did their actions impact the colonies?

Drinking Tea

The 1760 British had monopolized an enormous amount of profit from the Boston harbor when it had pay off the debt. The British Parliament imposed a series of taxes on the colonies. It began with the Stamp Act of 1765 which forced colonists to pay taxes on all printed goods imported from Britain. The Stamp Act was quickly repealed with the Townshend Act of 1767 which placed a tax on all imported British goods. When goods returned from Britain were taxed, which caused tensions to grow between the colonists and Britain.

Over British Monopoly of Tea

The British Parliament eventually repealed the Townshend Act after a series of protests from the colonies. However, it replaced it with a tax on tea. The colonists didn't really mind a small amount of the new tax, and they wanted to pay off all of their debts. However, they didn't want to pay the tax on tea because it was a monopoly and they didn't want to pay the tax on tea.
