Lower federal courts are responsible for applying the laws to specific cases. They are organized into circuits, with each circuit having a court of appeals. The Supreme Court is made up of nine justices, who are appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

The Supreme Court's Judicial Review

Students will learn about the power of judicial review and how it is used by the Supreme Court.

Working & Writing

Judicial Process

The judicial process is the way that cases are heard and decided by the courts. It starts with a complaint or lawsuit being filed in a court. The court then hears arguments from both sides and makes a decision based on the law. The Supreme Court has the final say on what the laws mean and can strike down laws that it thinks are unconstitutional.
