Climate Change in Popular Culture

James Craig Holte, 2022-06-17 An invaluable resource for general readers investigating climate change this book examines the impact of climate change on popular culture and analyzes how writers and directors treat the disasters caused by climate change in their novels and films. Climate Change in Popular Culture A Warming World in the American Imagination is the first study that includes analyses of both fiction and popular nonfiction works devoted to climate change. In addition the book examines a number of classic works from the perspective of the growing field of climate change literature and includes a brief history of climate change science as well basic scientific definitions all intended for general readers. The text provides an introduction to the science politics and economics of climate change. It also includes both historical overviews and potential probable futures projected by leading climate scientists and environmental writers. In addition the text looks at how such creative writers and directors as Margaret Atwood John Steinbeck Paulo Bacigalupi Kim Stanley Robinson T C Boyle Michael Crichton and Octavia Butler among others have used the disasters caused by climate change in their work.

Postcards from Dr. Seuss Christi E. Parker, 2004-08 U-STARS~PLUS Science Literature Connections Mary Ruth Coleman, Ph.D., Sneha Shah-Coltrane, M.A., 2010-01-01 Science Literature Connections provides an engaging way to explore scientific ideas within literacy instruction time using 32 popular children's books. Most of the selected books are readily available and many of the books have been translated into Spanish. Science Literature Connections is organized around Bloom's Taxonomy to support a range of thinking levels and to scaffold learning. By using these materials a teacher can create a higher level thinking environment around literature connected with science which motivates reluctant readers. The science concepts are based on the National Science Education Standards and align with most states science standards. Science Literature Connections was designed for Grades K-3 however many of the connections may be adapted for Grades 4
