Americans that's where the story begins and ends. Hardly the short unhappy life of the car, the men who built it, the men who imported it, and the decade that embraced and discarded it is rollicking and astounding and one of the greatest untold business cum morality tales of the 1980s. Mix one rabid entrepreneur, several thousand good communists, a willing U.S. State Department, the shortsighted Detroit auto industry, and improvident bankers, shake vigorously, and you've got The Yugo: The Rise and Fall of the Worst Car in History. Brilliantly re-creating the amazing confluence of events that produced the Yugo, Yugoslav expert Jason Vuic uproariously tells the story of the car that became an international joke. The American CEO who happens upon a Yugo right when his company needs to find a new import or go under. A State Department eager to aid Yugoslavia's nonaligned communist government, Zastava Automobiles, which overhauls its factory to produce an American-ready Yugo in six months. And a hole left by Detroit in the cheap subcompact market that creates a race to the bottom that leaves the Yugo at the bottom.

The Essential Max Müller J. Stone, 2016-04-30 Max Müller is often referred to as the father of Religious Studies having himself coined the term science of religion or religionswissenschaft in 1873 It was he who encouraged the comparative study of myth and ritual and it was he who introduced the oft quoted dictum He who knows one religion knows none Though a German born and German educated philologist he spent the greater part of his career at Oxford becoming one of the most famous of the Victorian arm chair scholars Müller wrote extensively on Indian philosophy and Vedic religion translated major sections of the Vedas the Upanisads and all of the Dhammapada yet never visited India To be sure his work bears the stamp of late Nineteenth Century sensibilities but as artifacts of Victorian era scholarship Müller's essays are helpful in reconstructing and comprehending the intellectual concerns of this highly enlightened though highly imperialistic age
